LIND TO MEET ROJAS, NEWS AWAITED

Believed Understanding in Mexican Matters May Be on the Carpet

VILLA'S TROOPS PRESSING FORWARD TO TORREON

U. S. Troops Starting from North to Laredo, Texas—No Troops for Local Border

WASHINGTON, March 19.—The State Department is awaiting news from Vera Cruz, where it is supposed American Envoy John Lind is conferring with Mexican Foreign Minister Rojas. The administration refused to state the subject of the conference. Secretary of State Bryan today claimed that he does not know whether Minister Rojas kept his appointment or not.

Rumored Possibilities
The report that Huerta's confidential agent, Portillo Rojas, will confer with Lind at Vera Cruz was followed by the statement from a source of high authority that a new Mexican ambassador is expected to succeed Charge d'Affaires Alcaraz, who now represents Mexico at Washington.

This suggests the possibility of an understanding that may be arrived at by which Wilson and Huerta may agree.

Huerta, it is stated, will take command of the federal army, but will resign from the presidency. President Wilson will agree, it is believed, to accept the successor whom Huerta names.

VILLA'S ARMY REPORTED IN ADVANCE ON TORREON

JUAREZ, March 19.—Constitutional officers predicted today that General Villa will attack Torreon and that General Obregon, marching from Hermosillo, will attack Mazatlan before midnight. Villa's army was reported this morning as beginning the advance on Torreon, where fighting has been in progress for several days.

Messages to the Constitutionalists from the front deny the reports of a federal victory at Escalon, stating that Gen. Villa is forcing the federalists back toward Torreon all along the line and that he expects to occupy Torreon by Sunday. There was no mention of casualties. The latest messages today were that fighting is being continued. All news is censored and it is impossible to learn here anything of what is actually occurring.

U. S. Troops For Border
LITTLE ROCK, March 19.—Four companies of the Ninth Infantry started to Laredo, Texas, for border duty.

NO TROOPS FOR MEXICO AND CALIFORNIA BORDER

SAN FRANCISCO, March 19.—Governor Johnson and Major General Murray, commanding the Department of the Pacific were scheduled for a conference today concerning conditions on the California-Mexico border. It seemed unlikely Murray will send additional troops to patrol the line, believing the small border towns are adequately provided with peace officers. Murray, it is rumored, believes the recent affair at Tecate, and the postoffice was burned, and one American was murdered, was work of bandits and that it will not be repeated.

WOMAN STATE OFFICIAL SCORES DIVORCE EVIL

DENVER, March 19.—"Woman's day dress is dreadful. If suffrage and the modern woman's movement were responsible for modern dress, I would not be in favor of either. Luckily, however, such is not the case." Sounding this strong note of disapproval with the tastes of many of her sisters, Mrs. Richard Bland, widow of Richard (Silver Dick) Bland, Democratic Congressman from Missouri for a quarter of a century, has come to Denver as assistant internal revenue collector here.

Coming from a State where women are not even allowed to vote or serve on the school board, she is determined to enter the public and political life of Denver. It is said:

"I think women will eventually have the vote in every State," she said today. "Only time can tell how beneficial that change will be. I believe, however, the laws of Colorado have been better since the women here got the ballot." Mrs. Bland admits that she "may have some old-fashioned ideas," but declares she thinks home and children are the best for any woman. She herself is the mother of ten children.

"Eugenics? I know scarcely enough about that to discuss it," she said. "But if it will help cure the divorce evil, it is all right. I most emphatically disapprove of divorce. In extreme cases it may be justifiable on occasion, but there must never under any circumstances be remarriage."

Weds Girl Who Sued Him for $500,000

Octavia Guinle, a wealthy Brazilian in New York, found a way to settle a breach of promise suit for a half million when he decided to wed the young woman who had accused him. He is reputed to be worth $6,000,000.

Four weeks ago he told the young woman, Miss Monica T. Borden, that his brother would not let him marry. Thereupon she filed a suit. But since then a change has come over the young man.

The final proposal of Guinle to Miss Borden was made over the telephone.

When the Brazilian mentioned his tender request over the telephone Miss Borden declined with thanks to marry him, but when he persisted she finally yielded.

The courtship which resulted in the marriage was short and swift. The bride met the young South American only last summer. He began an impetuous courtship and in a very short time they were engaged. The wedding was to have taken place on February 3. It was on January 14 that Guinle received a cable from his brother and the threat so frightened him that he at once notified Miss Borden that the marriage was off.

INDIANA BOWS TO WILSON'S REQUEST

Puts Direct Primary Plank in State Platform—Shively Named for Senate

INDIANAPOLIS, March 19.—After an all-night session the Democratic State Convention's resolution committee at daylight today adopted a statewide direct primary plank as a result of the demands of Senators Kern and Shively and Representatives Adair, Cullop and Barnhart. A majority of the thirteen committeemen opposed the plank but consented to the insertion of such plank under protest, Chairman Bell saying:

"The members of this committee are being made pall-bearers for the Democratic party of Indiana, but rather than take a side at the administration, we included the primary plank."

Later the entire convention adopted the primary plank. It also nominated Shively by acclamation for the senate, as the threatened stampede for Tom Taggart failed to materialize. Senator Kern, who was permanent chairman, eulogized President Wilson, praising his foreign policy.

TO PUSH HINDU DEMANDS RIGHT EXCLUSION BILL TO PAVE EAST FOURTH

Rep. Church Anxious to Keep Bill Clear from Complications With Other Measures

AMENDMENTS LIKELY TO HURT ITS CHANCES

Believes if Passed Will Prove Base for Other Asiatic Legislation

WASHINGTON, March 19.—Another attempt to secure consideration of the Asiatic exclusion bill, made today before the house immigration committee by Pacific Coast representatives, failed because Chairman Barnett was absent. The western representatives predicted, however, that a bill restricting the immigration of Mongolians and Hindus will be favorably reported at the present session.

HINDU EXCLUSION BILL TO BE PRESSED BY CHURCH

A strong movement is on foot to enact Hindu exclusion legislation at this session. Representative Church, who is author of a bill for exclusion of Hindus, is pressing the matter. He is anxious to keep it clear from a complication with other phases of the exclusion question, such as Japanese exclusion. Mr. Church takes the position that the Hindu bill should be passed first and considered by itself. He fears it will fail if it is loaded up with amendments. He thinks the Hindu bill by itself will pass.

Once that is passed, he says, it would prove the groundwork for legislation on other phases of the Asiatic immigration problem.

This morning E. R. Werdin of the L. A. Paving Company demanded of Street Superintendent English that he sign a contract for Werdin to pave East Fourth street from the Santa Fe to the east city limits. On the advice of City Attorney Heathman, English refused, and straightway Werdin declared that just as soon as his attorneys can get papers prepared a mandamus action will be brought against English in the effort to compel him to put his name to the contract offered by Werdin.

Werdin is the paving contractor who was the lowest bidder for the East Fourth street job, his figure for the paving being fourteen cents per square foot. His bid was taken under Vrooman Act proceedings. The City Trustees passed the award of contract, but the street superintendent did not sign the contract because no notice was served on him by Attorney Steele Finley that over seventy-five per cent of the property owners had elected to take the contract themselves. Their action was in accordance with a provision of the Vrooman Act which allows them ten days in which to take over any contract after bids have been received. The property owners sublet the job at twelve cents a square foot to Crandall Construction Co., which is now paving South Birch street. Crandall is reported to have demurred against entering into the plan, but was persuaded to do so because of obligations he was under to the property owners by reason of representations he had made to them during his efforts to get the entire street signed up by private contract.

Street Superintendent English signed the property owners' contract Monday night after a bond of $18,000 had been given to the Guardian Casualty and Indemnity Co.

This morning Werdin presented to Street Superintendent English a check for $24.15, covering preliminary Vrooman Act expenses. At the same time he presented a contract for the paving of the street. English referred the matter to the city attorney. Heathman holds that the street superintendent has already signed one contract for paving that street, and can not sign another. The opinion of the city attorney is that the city officials have done exactly what the law requires them to do, and that the contract does not belong to Werdin.

"Before the week is out," said Werdin this morning, "mandamus proceedings will be started in the superior court of this county to make the street superintendent sign my contract. If we can't get the order here, I shall take it to the supreme court, and we are sure that with the law on our side we will eventually win."

"I understand that Crandall is tearing up the street. Let him go right ahead and do the work, and I'll collect for it. Whatever he does leaves that much less for me to do."

UNEMPLOYED OUT-WIT SACRAMENTO

Piece of Ground Bought in Stylish Suburb Where Workless Defy the City

SACRAMENTO, March 19.—Householders, armed with guns and clubs, and housewives with brooms, fashionable Oak Ridge Acres is guarding its property today from the invasion of the unemployed by the army of the unemployed that has purchased an acre and a half of ground here, moved its members there surreptitiously and defied the city authorities to drive them from their own property. Last night was peaceful and no trouble has been reported. Police guarded the camp all night. Today when the men awoke and foraged for food, they were orderly. More than 200 of the unemployed collected here after being dispersed in small squads yesterday. The city's next move in the matter is problematical.

TWO ESKIMOS VISITING NEW YORK, SAID IT WAS TOO WARM WHEN THERMOMETER STOOD AT ZERO

Natuk, the young Eskimo girl, and Emootuk, the young man, who have been visiting in New York, spent most of their time during the snowstorm which bound up the city for two weeks in Central Park playing in the snow. When others had been driven in by the zero weather they said it was almost too warm for them. They said that the park in the snowstorm was the only thing they had found in the United States which looked at all home-like.

"It is pretty warm," said the girl, when she was asked how she enjoyed herself. "But we left our heavy clothing at home, so we get along pretty well."

But they will get out of New York long before the warmth of summer comes.

TRUSTEE GRUBB GIVES HIS REASONS FOR SUPPORTING ELECTION-AT-LARGE PLAN

To the Editor of the Register:

Since the meeting of the Board of Trustees last Monday night, many citizens have inquired of me my reasons for advocating the change made in ordinance 569, which provides for the election of our trustees at large, instead of by wards.

Inasmuch as the reporter for the Register gave the arguments at some length of the two members opposing the passage of the amendment, and omitted almost entirely my replies to these arguments, I wish here to state briefly the reasons I gave at that time in my remarks.

I supported this measure, and so stated, because I believe that through it we shall get better government; because Los Angeles, San Diego, and a majority of the cities of our class elect trustees at large.

I have since learned that all other incorporated towns in Orange county and almost without exception all the cities large and small in California, elect their trustees at large, and not by wards.

I also said that any member of this board who desired to be re-elected and was afraid to submit his election to all the voters of the city, justified this ordinance by opposing it.

I objected to submitting it to popular vote at the next regular election, because that would delay putting it in to practice for five years, and that was longer than I wanted to wait for a chance to vote for all the officers that have control of our city affairs.

I might also have said that this method would eliminate all chance for "ward politics" or "pork-barrel" work, for the reason that when a man is elected to represent a certain ward, it is natural (though wrong) for that ward to exact of their representative measures that will benefit his particular ward; whereas if each man is elected by the whole city, he will naturally be expected to serve the interests of the whole city, even though the wards are left intact, and the representatives selected (but not elected) from these wards.

It will make the recall effective over the whole city, rather than in wards alone.

Many other reasons could be advanced in support of this ordinance, but I think this is sufficient to verify the statement that it is NOT "freak legislation by crazy Progressives," as of the three affirmative votes cast for it, one was by a stand-pat Republican, one by a Democrat, and the other by a Progressive.

Sincerely yours,

W. L. GRUBB.

THREE MASTER IS SUNK BY LINER BY COLLISION IN FOG

OSTEND, March 19.—Colliding in the fog with the liner Kaiser Wilhelm Der Grosse, an unidentified three masted schooner was sunk in the North Sea this morning with all aboard. The liner was not damaged. In a wireless report of the accident, the captain of the liner said he did everything possible to save the lost ship and its crew but that it sunk too quickly to permit rescue. The liner cruised about the spot for three hours but found no bodies. The number of victims of the disaster is unknown. The Kaiser is bound from New York to Bremen.

LINER BATAVIA BADLY DAMAGED BY FIERCE GALE

HAMBURG, March 19.—The breaking of both steam and hand steering gear in a terrific gale caused the Hamburg-American liner Batavia to put in yesterday at Ponta Belgada in the Azores. The Batavia left Hamburg on March 8 for Baltimore, carrying 296 steerage passengers. News of the accident was received in a wireless message from the captain.

VEGGS DYNAMITE SAFE AT ARLINGTON NEAR RIVERSIDE

RIVERSIDE, March 19.—Yegmen dynamited the safe of the Snyder Jewelry Co. at Arlington this morning. They exchanged shots with Night-watchman Eck and others who joined him. The thugs escaped, but got no loot.

GEN. WOTHERSPOON MAY SUCCEED GEN. WOOD AS ARMY HEAD

SAN FRANCISCO, March 19.—From unofficial word that has reached the headquarters of the western department of the army, Maj. Gen. William W. Wotherspoon, general staff, is slated to succeed Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood as chief of staff when that officer is relieved of staff duty next month and goes to Governor's Island, N. Y., as commander of the Eastern Department. Although the Secretary of War has stated that he would make no announcement regarding Gen. Wood's successor until such a time as the orders are issued assigning Wood to his new station, there seems to be little doubt among officers here that the selection will fall upon Gen. Wotherspoon who now, to all intents and purposes, is assistant chief of staff.

THOUSANDS SAID TO HAVE PERISHED IN RUSSIAN STORM

ODESSA, March 19.—Additional warships have been sent to cruise along the Crimean coast in search of survivors of the fishing vessels lost in the recent storms in the East Sea of Asov. New estimates today indicate that five to seven thousand persons may have perished. The tidal wave in the Sea of Asov is held to account for 2500 deaths.

WILSON PUTS DEMOCRATS AT WORK

Puts Quartette of Lieutenants in Charge of Panama Tolls Repeal Bill

SHIVELY HAS PROMISED MAJORITY IN TWO HOUSES

Debate on Bill Announced to Begin Tuesday—Saturday May See Vote

WASHINGTON, March 19.—It was announced today that the House debate on the bill to repeal the Panama canal tolls exemption clause will begin next Tuesday. A vote is expected on the bill the following Saturday.

How important President Wilson regards the repeal of the exemption clause in the canal tolls bill was indicated today when he disarranged his entire program for consultation with Representatives Covington and Shively while a score of visitors waited. He is said to have asked Covington, Shively, Palmer and Adamson to take charge of the repeal bill, which will probably be considered by the House next week. A red hot fight is expected with other Southerners arrayed behind Representative Underwood, who opposes the repeal bill. In today's conference the position of every Democrat was discussed and checked off. Shively assured the President that he will have a majority in each house for the bill.

UNDERWOOD SAID TO BE GAINING STRENGTH

Oscar W. Underwood, House Democratic leader, seems to be gaining strength in his fight against the repeal of the Panama canal free tolls act for coastwise ships.

Mr. Underwood has not unlimbered his artillery. Following the speech he is to make in the House opposing President on the subject of free tolls for American ships through the Panama canal, the House expects a special message from the President.

Broussard to Close

Representative Robert F. Broussard of Louisiana has been given the right to close the debate in favor of free tolls. He is the drafter of the free tolls law.

It is the belief today by many members of Congress who follow the President that the repealing bill is to be withdrawn by the administration. If it is pressed it will come solely as a measure supplemental to treaty provisions with England and not as a part of governmental policy.

MONIS RESIGNED FROM FRENCH CABINET TODAY

PARIS, March 19.—The Caillaux case cost another cabinet member his portfolio today when Marine Minister Ernest Monis resigned, following a remark by a member of the Chamber of Deputies that he would probably be powerful enough to prevent the prosecution of the wife of his colleague, Caillaux, for the murder of Eutier Calmette. The deputy added that when Monis was premier he succeeded in delaying the trial of Henri Rochette, accused of swindles aggregating $20,000,000, later getting him released on bail. Rochette disappeared and has never since been seen in France. Monis, hearing of the statement, immediately resigned.

ALL WOMAN'S ORGANS FOUND TRANSPOSED

ELKINS, W. Va., March 19.—Is a person of reversed anatomy who uses the right hand as do other folks left-handed? And if such a person gets appendicitis merely where the appendix ought to be, what has that person got? Those are but two of the questions puzzling West Virginia physicians since Laura Cassel of Widdel, W. Va., was operated on at the Davis Memorial Hospital here. Upon operating the surgeons failed to find an appendix. Examination then disclosed that the appendix was on the left side and uninfected, that the heart was on the right side, the right lung where the left should be and vice-versa, and liver, kidneys and other organs just opposite where they belonged. But she carried out her principal tasks with the right hand, it was noted, and hence the question, "Is she right-handed or left-handed?"

TRIAL OF SPOTT, CHARGED WITH DIGGS, ON MARCH 31

SAN FRANCISCO, March 19.—Paul Spott, accused with ex-State Architect Maury I. Diggs and Walter Gilligan of a statutory offense against Ida Pearring, aged 17, today pleaded not guilty. His trial was set for March 31.

LIME AND GYPSUM IN THE CITRUS ORCHARD

The use of lime material and gypsum in the citrus orchard has become quite extensive within the past few years; but the actual value and effects of the different forms applied to the soil are not universally understood, and considerable confusion exists as to their relative value under different conditions.

A recent bulletin issued by the State College of Agriculture on "The Use of Lime and Gypsum on California Soils," by Prof. Chas. B. Lipman, is of value in clearly showing when and where lime and gypsum can be used with profit.

Lime materials—including quick lime, water-slaked lime and air-slaked lime—and gypsum greatly differ, not only in their chemical analysis but also in their uses and effects on soil and plant growth. Both lime materials and gypsum, however, are alike in that they all "have the power of shrinking clay and making it more pervious to water and air, by making a large number of crumbs from large sticky masses. Therefore, they make clays and clay adobe soils looser, prevent their packing and baking and cracking, make plowing and cultivating easier, and, in general, make the soil, physically, a healthier medium for plant growth."

The bulletin further describes the functions of lime and gypsum in the soil as follows:

Lime Materials
1. Lime materials serve as a source of the element calcium to plants. Calcium is one of the ten essential chemical elements in plant growth. 2. Lime materials make "sour" soil "sweet." Speaking correctly they change an acid soil condition to a slightly alkaline one. Acidity of soils is very detrimental to the growth of many agricultural crops. A slightly alkaline condition is ideal for them. 3. Lime materials are necessary for useful and beneficial bacteria and other micro-organisms of the soil. It furnishes these the element calcium, which is an essential to them as to the higher plants. It promotes a slightly alkaline condition which is ideal for their development. By its physical effects lime produces good air and moisture conditions for bacteria. 4. Lime materials promote the normal decay of soil organic matter through their effects on the agencies of decay above described. The normal decay of organic matter in the soil prevents the accumulation of poisonous materials in soils which are detrimental to plant growth. 4. Lime will not neutralize sodium carbonate or black alkali.

Gypsum
1. Gypsum, like lime, serves as a source of the element calcium. 2. Gypsum, like lime, stimulates the beneficial organisms on the roots of leguminous plants like peas, beans, vetches, alfalfa and clovers. 3. Gypsum does NOT make sour soil sweet. It will not change an acid into a slightly alkaline soil, as do lime materials. Gypsum is a neutral salt (possesses no alkalinity), and therefore will not be of assistance or act as a corrective to a sour or acid soil. 4. Gypsum does not share with lime, to any appreciable extent, the good effects of the latter on soil organic matter. 5. Gypsum will neutralize sodium carbonate or "black alkali."

From the above it will be seen that there are at least two important functions which lime performs in the soil which gypsum cannot perform, namely, the correction of acidity in the soil and the promotion of normal decay of organic matter in the soil.

But for use in lightening heavy adobe soils both are available, the question of cost being here the main point at issue. Gypsum is also of value as a "fixer" of ammonia in barnyard manure and its conversion into sulphate of ammonia; the use of from one-quarter to three-quarters of a pound per head of stock per day scattered on the manure pile being sufficient, this at the same time being of great assistance in decreasing the number of flies. But on the other hand, the lime materials cannot be used this way.

The following in connection with the use of lime and gypsum for the purpose of lightening heavy soils also occurs in the same bulletin:

"No determination needs to be made to inform the owner of heavy land if lime is necessary to improve texture. The decision both as to amount to apply and as to the feasibility of applying it must be made on the basis of the cost of the lime and the degree of "running together" or baking and cracking which is characteristic of the soil. From one to two tons for the burnt lime or of the hydrated lime, or from two to four tons of the ground limestone, may be safely applied to improve the working qualities of heavy soils. Application may be made by means of one of several types of lime spreading machines or the lime may be deposited in piles and spread with a shovel. It should be well plowed in and covered at a time when there is sufficient moisture in the soil for the lime to act well.

"The burnt lime or the hydrated lime is to be preferred to the carbonate of lime for making heavy soils lighter if the cost will allow. The first two forms act more vigorously and more quickly. Applications of lime are best made prior to fall or winter plowing or several months prior to planting. This must be particularly borne in mind if either hydrated or burnt lime are employed.

"If lime is very expensive, as it may be in some districts of this state, gypsum, if much cheaper, may also be used as indicated above, to lighten heavy soils. Applications varying from one half ton to one ton per acre may be used in such cases."

It will be noted from the above that extreme care is necessary in the use of the hydrated or burnt lime where plant growth exists, at least when applied in any considerable quantities.

IF BACK HURTS USE SALTS FOR KIDNEYS

Eat Less Meat if Kidneys Feel Like Lead or Bladder Bothers

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headache, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.—Advertisement.

GIVES INTERESTING ACCOUNT OF VISIT IN JAPANESE CITY

R. J. Thompson of Santa Ana has received some interesting letters from his brother, W. B. Thompson of Harvey, Ill., who spent Thanksgiving here and who left on Dec. 16 for a tour of the world. One of his letters tells of Nagasaki as follows:

With I had the power to paint you a word picture of the beautiful inland sea. The rare combination of a sea with thousands of sailing fishing boats and as many islands of all sizes and shapes. The shore with here and there a native village and the hillside made sacred by picturesque temples and shrines and the wonderful system of terracing and irrigation of the steep hills and further back still higher mountains, many towering above the clouds and white-glistening in the sunlight, covered with perpetual snow. And to add awe we were told that many of the mountains were volcanoes and often broke forth, producing devastation and death in the valleys below. Suppose you read of the terrible eruption

LIVING LIGHT GOES UP LIGHT GOES DOWN

Study the following illustration. The size of these lamp globes is in exact proportion to the purchasing power of light for ONE DOLLAR—1908 compared with 1914.

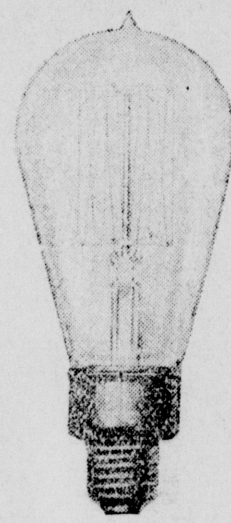

1908
One Dollar Purchased
1904 Candle Hours of Electric Light

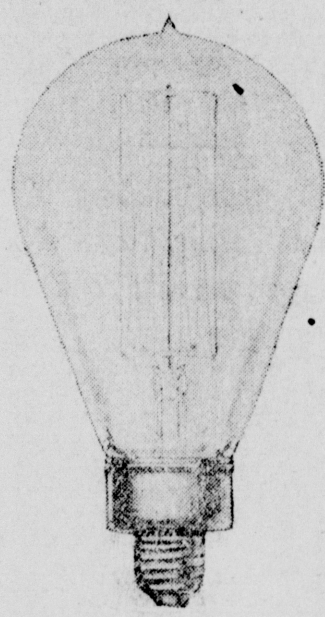

1910
One Dollar Purchased
3076 Candle Hours of Electric Light
62% Increase in Illumination Over 1908

1912
One Dollar Purchased
8000 Candle Hours of Electric Light
320% Increase in Illumination Over 1908

One Dollar Purchased
11428 Candle Hours of Electric Light
500% Increase in Illumination Over 1908

Now you are enjoying a 7 cent per kilowatt maximum lighting rate, with free lamp renewals. The rate decreases to a minimum of 2½ cents per kilowatt hour, the scale of reduction being in proportion to the amount consumed.

Nine years of voluntary rate reduction is our record. New rates (effective March 1st, 1914) show the enormous cheapening in light, while nearly all other commodities of life have continuously advanced.

of one of these volcanoes, which occurred last week.

Must tell you something of our stop at Nagasaki. We were met by a fleet of coal barges manned by women who proceeded to coal our ship by passing baskets of coal from hand to hand up a line from the barge to the hold. They were a healthy, happy lot of lassies and seemed to enjoy the work so much that we felt that our sympathy for them was wasted. Am told that they are paid 10c per day for this work. Well, as my friend Sprinkle was ill yesterday and could not go ashore I took one of the ladies, Mrs. Helvy of Bloomington, Ill. She came all the way from San Francisco on the Persia. We rickshawed all over the city and visited the temples and was shown two trees that had been planted by U. S. Grant and his wife during their visit here thirty years ago. There is a monument with inscription or quotation from a letter written by General Grant to the Emperor. One intelligent looking Jap inquired if Grant was still emperor of the United States. We visited two places where they make and sell tortoise shell articles. They were exquisite. Wish you could have seen these goods. Well, when it came time for lunch I told the rickshaw men to take us to where we could get "Japanese chow." He took us to a tea house where we were requested to remove our shoes before entering. We were conducted to a room up stairs where the walls were beautifully decorated in oriental style. The floor was covered by fine matting. In the middle of the room was a table that was about twelve inches high and a hole in the center. On each side of the table was a cushion on which we were asked to sit—no chair. They then brought raw fish and cooked it on a heater that was placed on the floor just under the hole in the table. They served us right out of the steaming sauce pan that covered the hole in the table. Then they cooked and served oysters the chicken and salads with queer tasting sauce and rice and fruits and native tea and the national "sake," which is a kind of wine. When we had eaten and drunk to our capacity, they asked us if we were ready for the geisha dancers which in Japan is considered a part of a swell dinner, same as orchestra music is at home. Mrs. Helvy thought it was something naughty so that part of the entertainment was "cut out."

An extended honeymoon at the State Agricultural College here, with the prospect of jointly managing the affairs of a big ranch, is the lot of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Reed, a young couple who, a year ago, engaged in a romantic marriage which came so unexpectedly as to almost amount to an elopement.

Shortly after the couple married, their parents decided to send them both to the agricultural school. There the bridegroom is studying scientific farming in all its branches and his bride takes up the domestic science end of agricultural management. It is understood that Reed's parents intend to place the couple on a ranch near here when their course is finished.

"City Beautiful in 1915" Movement Meets With Hearty Support from All

At the regular mid-monthly meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce last evening Henry T. Rutherford, chairman of the "City Beautiful" committee, reported that the lots at the corner of Tenth and Sycamore, which W. A. Zimmerman donated for the propagation of the geranium cuttings, had been plowed and sand hauled upon them. The slips are to be planted in two or three days by Ed. B. Laird, who has been hired to oversee the work. The "City Beautiful in 1915" movement is meeting with the heartiest support on the part of all interested in beautifying the city for exposition year.

George W. Minter, who was present at the meeting, suggested that the chamber offer prizes for the best kept gardens, both front and back. This matter was laid over until the next meeting.

Fred Raftery, first vice president of the board of directors, presided at the meeting in the absence of President W. A. Zimmerman. Other directors present were George B. Shattuck, E. A. White, Carl G. Strook, H. A. Gardner, George S. Smith and H. T. Rutherford.

U. S. CENSORSHIP FOR MOVIES
NOW BEING CONSIDERED

WASHINGTON, March 19.—A federal motion picture commission under the jurisdiction of the United States Bureau of Education was proposed yesterday in a bill by Senator Hoke Smith. Three members appointed by the president would license each film for exhibition unless it is obscene, indecent, immoral or depicts a brilliant or prize fight, or is of such character that its exhibition would tend to corrupt the morals of children or adults, or incite to crime.

CORPORATIONS DELINQUENT

SACRAMENTO, March 19.—In a proclamation issued yesterday by Governor Johnson, 2094 corporations are declared delinquent in paying their corporation franchise taxes. The delinquent corporations owe the state an aggregate of $52,425.25.

Of the original tax levy of $12,971,541.80 fixed by the State Board of Equalization last year, $12,959,116.52 has been paid. Penalties collected on taxes amounted to $14,974.81 additional.

GEORGE W. DRYER IS ELECTED PRESIDENT OF UNIVERSITY CLUB

At the annual election of the University Club of Los Angeles, George W. Dryer, son of Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Dryer of Santa Ana, was elected president. This is a signal honor for Attorney Dryer, who has served the club as secretary, treasurer and vice-president. His selection as head of the University Club speaks a great deal for the confidence that the members of that large organization of Los Angeles men have in him. Dryer graduated from the Santa Ana High School in 1898, and from Stanford University in 1902.

COMB SAGE TEA IN LIFELESS, GRAY HAIR

If Mixed With Sulphur it Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, ready to use, for about 50 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, itchy scalp and falling hair. A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and abundant.—Advertisement.

PROCLAMATION FOR
ORANGE DAY, MAR. 21

To the Citizens of Santa Ana: By virtue of the power vested in me, as the chief executive officer of the city of Santa Ana, I wish to call to the attention of the people of Santa Ana, that Saturday, March 21, has been assigned as "Orange Day" throughout the state of California, and that on said date it behooves all of our people to celebrate the day in a befitting manner, and I do most earnestly recommend that our citizens take all proper steps to celebrate the 21st day of March, 1914, by introducing into our diet as many uses of our glorious fruit as can be found convenient, and that I further recommend that we make liberal purchases of the orange on that day, and that the housewives prepare and serve the orange upon the tables on that day, and that we consume such delicacies as marmalade and preserves made from the fruit which distinguishes our beautiful land.

Witness my hand and seal this 17th day of March, 1914.
FRANK EY, Mayor.

WILL ASSESS ORANGE
P. E. THIS YEAR AS INOPERATIVE PROPERTY

County Assessor James Sleeper is going to assess the P. E. line between the Santa Ana city limits and Orange as inoperative property. He will put on an assessment of $7,500 a mile.

That will mean a nice little assessment upon which county taxes will be paid. Under the state law, operative railroad property is assessed by the county assessor so that it can pay its pro rata of tax on state bonds issued before Amendment No. 1 separated properties into two classes, the corporations of certain classes to pay to the state. When the P. E. turned in its property list in this county the Orange line was listed as operative property. Sleeper is going to put it on the inoperative list for the reason that on the first Monday in March it was not in operation.

VICTORY OVER BILLBOARDS

The city of St. Louis has finally won, in litigation extending over nine years, against the operations of a billboard combine. The statute was moderate, merely limiting height of such boardings to fourteen feet and a maximum area of five hundred square feet. If such regulations are not established, there will be no limits to the deformed advertising that will grow up in vacant city lots and suburbs.

If it is constitutional to limit billboards to certain heights and lengths, why can not this limitation be carried indefinitely in the interest of the public good?

To travellers on American railroads, one of the most disgusting sights is the way advertising billboards thrust themselves against country scenery. When one escapes from the routine of home scenes or the restless crowding of cities, one looks with pleasurable anticipation for the serene peace of rivers and hills and forests. Yet on almost any line with heavy travel, the coarse appeal to dollars thrusts itself at you in the most grotesque form, shutting out the hoped-for message from Mother Nature.

On some lines there is an almost continuous succession of these obnoxious and ugly notices. People pay down good money for the refreshment of country scenes, and are solicited against their will to buy some one's corsets or tooth paste.

A great many people conceive a strong feeling of dislike against the company that chooses this method of advertising. One would think that publicity seekers would begin to think that they are not buying the good will of the public, when they choose a method of advertising that is so unpopular.

Meanwhile the end of this tiresome litigation in St. Louis will encourage a host of improvement societies and civic associations, which have always believed that billboards could be outlawed or greatly curbed through legal means.

LENTEN FARE

Few persons observe the rigors of the old time Lent, "black fast," as they were called by some. History records that in ancient days armies and cities were reduced to starvation during Lent, while having plenty of flesh food which they were so disciplined as to refuse.

Historians also observe that some of the old Lenten laws were aimed quite as much to promote the prosperity of the fish trade as to assist in true religious culture. So the decline of asceticism does not invariably mean a lack of religious feeling.

Edward VI of England, desiring to reconcile his subjects to a somewhat stricter observance of Lent, very sensibly remarked that abstinence from meat saves much flesh, and encourages the use of fish. In these times of high-cost meat the family that observes Lent according to the older ideas will gain not merely the benefits that come from self discipline, but may learn that one can do very well on substitutes for meat.

The constant improvement of refrigerating and transportation facilities make fish, oysters, and other sea foods more generally available than formerly. But comparatively few families cook fish nicely. Too often it is merely dried in the frying pan, a loathly object. At seashore hotels where these arts are studied, appetizing sauces are used, and the constant succession of fish food is usually popular.

No doubt there are still left a good many people who modify their diet a good deal during this period of fasting. Let no one deride their abstinence if they find it helpful. Any form of self control makes one more truly the master of his own life, and it reduces the sway of the fleshly instincts which so often are a foe to human usefulness and ambition.

THE MODERN NOVEL

The old-time novel took a very high moral tone. The hero was a frank-faced and clear-eyed youth, who struggled against fate and circumstances, and who fell in love with a high-minded girl. Finally they married and lived happy for ever after.

Marriage now is apt to be a rather early incident in the story. The hero has a fatal capacity for picking out the girl he didn't really want. This of course was not due to his own lack of brains, but to some fateful decree of physical passion, which he couldn't help. Afterward he discovers that his wife is a nobody. Around in the next street is a pure and high ideal of femininity, whom he should have selected in the first place. Hence ructions!

Sex feeling is a big element in human life, but it is not everything. As life grows more complex with its struggles of business, society, politics, a great many other interests meet and clash and create dramatic situations worthy of fine fictional treatment. The best fiction writers are giving more and more prominence to these other aspects of life.

Ten years ago the railroad station news stands were covered with long libraries of paper 10- and 20-cent novels. Now they are apt to be put under the counter, while the news dealers display newspapers and illustrated magazines. It is comparatively rare today to see a man reading a novel on the train. Perhaps one trouble is that modern writers have given the sex motive such a morbid prominence that it surfeits healthy-minded people. As some one has said, the modern novel is too erotic, neurotic, and tommyrotic.

THE OBSTACLES TO FARM CO-OPERATION

Wherever farmers have been getting together the past winter, the subject of co-operative methods has been discussed.

Is the farmer too independent and isolated a personality to co-operate successfully? He can toil in the hayfield from dawn to dark, with wonderful industry and persistence. But long solitudes have made him an intense individualist. Sure of food and fuel in his little homestead, he defies the world of commerce and society.

Farm co-operation is not new in this country. Abortive efforts have been made at it for years. They encountered a spirit of suspicion. The moment he put out of his hands the function of marketing or buying, the farmer saw crookedness. If his neighbor, by better methods, produced a superior article, he got better prices, which less successful competitors attributed to favoritism.

A recent writer in the Saturday Evening Post, describing conditions formerly existing in the lumber business, told of the discrimination against the product of the smaller dealers. It is very easy for an unfair grader to slip up the product of the big man, and slip down the product of the little fellow. Of recent years, as the result of the forming of trade associations, the sentiment of that business is against unfair discriminations.

Similarly the farmers can avert such abuses in co-operative work, as other trades have done, by cordial union, frank discussion of errors, insistence on the square deal. No man ever gets ahead who is too suspicious of his fellow-men. There are plenty of bright, square men who can handle farm co-operation honestly and efficiently. The farmer must find them and trust them, or forever suffer from the limitations of the individualist.

BALL PLAYERS' STATUES ARE URGED BY SCULPTOR

CLEVELAND, March 19.—Immortalization of modern sports to replace the time-worn Greek discus thrower and Olympian champion of centuries past is the object of Miss Anna Pfenniger, Cleveland sculptress, who today was putting the finishing touches on a marble bust of Johnny Kilbane, champion featherweight pugilist. She will seek to have the statue exhibited at the Panama-Pacific Exposition.

In the meantime she will extend her efforts to a series of baseball statues showing "Home Run Baker," "Ty" Cobb, Walter Johnson and other diamond stars who she believes should have a niche in the sculptural halls of the country. She also desires to model Jim Thorpe, the Carlisle Indian who is one of the best all-around athletes ever developed.

"Why keep on copying the heroes of ancient athletic history when there are more interesting subjects in the modern field of sport," said Miss Pfenniger today in her little ivy-covered Detroit avenue studio. "Athletes, ball players, prize fighters, living men of today are more appreciated as models."

WASHINGTON, March 19.—Authoritative denial that Mrs. Wilson's illness has taken a turn for the worse, as reported last night, was issued at the White House today. It was stated she was recovering rapidly from the effects of her recent fall. The story that she was worse is believed to have originated when Dr. Cary Grayson failed to appear yesterday at a wedding at which he was expected to act as usher. The real reason for his absence was said to be the president's wish for a golf companion.

—Almost every day some grateful person comes into our store and tells us of benefits received from the use of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets. Knowing how much good they have done others and knowing what they are made of, we feel sure they will help you. So great is our faith in them that we urge you to try them entirely at our risk, with our personal promise that if they don't do all you expect them to do and make your stomach comfortable and healthy and your digestion easy, we'll hand back your money.

We couldn't endorse anything any more strongly than we do Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets. Containing Pepsin and Bismuth, two of the greatest digestive aids known to medical science, they soothe the stomach, check heartburn and distress, promote a natural flow of the gastric juice, and help regulate the bowels. Remember, if they don't make your digestion so easy and comfortable that you can eat whatever you like whenever you like, we want you to come back and tell us and get your money. Sold only at the more than 7,000 Rexall Stores, and in this town only at our store. Three sizes, 25c, 50c and $1.00. Mateer's Drug Store, 106 W. Fourth, Santa Ana.

Doings In Social and Club Circles

MISS COVINGTON'S PARTY

Charming St. Patrick's Event Was One of Successes of the Social Season

One of the very prettiest of the many pretty parties given during the St. Patrick's Day season was that at which Miss Hester Covington was hostess last evening at the family home on South Birch street. The house was brilliantly decorated with paper shamrocks, the sacred leaves being employed in graceful festoons, in groups on walls and draperies and all available places where they could be used effectively. In the dressing rooms the guests found quantities of the real shamrocks, grown on slips from the original plants in the "Old Sod," and these were pinned on dainty bodices of the young women guests. Lovely white Cherokee roses and ferns contributed to the decorative scheme. The favors were tiny pigs and miniature Irishmen.

As an alluring introduction to the diversions of the evening, each guest was given a string which formed part of a perfect maze of green cord leading here, there and everywhere. At the end of each string was an interesting little prize appropriate to the nature of the event. Merry games of rook followed, in which Miss Pullin was the fortunate winner of a handsome bound Irish legend, "Wurra Wurra," given for high score. Miss Buckley was consoled with an Irish favor, Miss Buckley charmingly sang two Irish ballads, and Miss Hawkins gave a reading, "Aunt Tabitha."

A midnight supper was served in a charming way. Green candles shaded with green afforded the soft illumination, and in the center of the table was a bowl of the beautiful Cherokee roses, the white blossoms and fronds of ferns carrying out the green and white color scheme. Green and white nut cups were tied with ribbons of the same colors, and the places were marked with cards bearing a design of Irish lassies and shamrocks. Irish flags adorned the individual salads. Plates were laid for Misses Paul, Hawkins, Cloyes, Pullin, Beecher, Buckley, Hopkins, Cleveland, Miller, Sweet, Roberts and Mrs. Farley. Miss Covington was assisted by her mother in entertaining through the delightful evening.

Entertained School Friends

The home of Miss Fay Titus on West Fifth street was the scene of Irish gayety Tuesday evening when Miss Fay entertained thirty of her eighth-grade friends from the Intermediate School. A green color scheme was seen throughout the rooms, festoons of shamrock and ferns being employed effectively.

After various merry games, a prize was given for the best-written compliment. Miss Elsie Fluor being the lucky winner. Miss Maybelle Jernigan was elected to kiss the blarney stone. Instrumental solos by Kenneth Horton and Elsie Fluor and a reading by Thomas Sherman entertained the guests, and the hours passed quickly. After refreshments had been served, the young people united in singing "Where the River Shannon Flows," and then good nights were said as each expressed pleasure over the delightful evening.

CHARMING MUSICALS

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde F. Holt entertained With Affair in Honor of Eastern Guests

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde F. Holt entertained last evening with a musical given in honor of L. M. Forcey of Clearfield, Penn. Mrs. Edith Raymond and Miss Anna Young, both of Philadelphia. There were eighteen couples present. Callas were used in the den and living room, while a bank of Marguerites and orange blossoms extended over the arch from the living room to the dining room, while the sitting room was banked with Marguerites and smilax.

One of the features of the evening was the sheet of charming vocal and piano numbers given by Miss Mildred Murphy. Miss Mildred's mother, Mrs. Murphy, won applause with an Indian war dance which she gave in response to the demand of a "duty game" instituted by the hostess in which each guest was required to furnish some entertainment. To the vociferous applause for Mrs. Murphy's success, Mr. Holt volunteered to respond for her with a vocal solo.

A charming three course collation was served, the table being centered with a green and white conceit, a mirror plateau being garnished with smilax in the center of which was a serpent formed of green mints. The place cards were hand-painted with Tipperary colleens. The individual favors were white mints with center design of green shamrocks.

The Holt home is one of the very beautiful new residences of the city, its interior furnishings being of costly woods throughout. It is ideal for entertaining.

Courtesy for Former Santa Ana

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kimball of 419 French street, recently had the pleasure of attending a dinner and reception given in Los Angeles in honor of the eighty-third birthday of Mr. Kimball's sister, Mrs. A. E. Emerson, who is well known in Santa Ana, having lived on East Santa Clara avenue for many years. The affair was held at the home of Mrs. Emerson's sister, Mrs. George L. Remington, 2823 South Flower street. Bouquets received as birthday gifts by the honoree—among them being several clusters of lilies of the valley and pink sweet peas—were employed in beautifying the house.

The birthday cake was a special feature of the dinner. It was a large one of pink and white, bearing the salutation, "Birthday Greetings to A. E." As the honored guest and her sister and brother, all of whom had passed the eightieth mile stone, entered the dining room, eighty-three candles flamed up from the cake, producing a very pleasing effect.

Among the birthday remembrances were a number of cards bearing good wishes from Mrs. Emerson's old friends and neighbors in Santa Ana, which were especially appreciated by her.

A Fishing Party

The first of the week, Mrs. G. H. Hess of Garden Grove entertained in honor of her sister, Mrs. Chas. Dougherty, and her husband, recent arrivals from Philadelphia, with a fishing and boating party at Sunset Beach. Sunday was an ideal day for a picnic, and fishing was excellent. Lunch was spread on the beach, and the fish caught by the party and fried over a bonfire proved very delicious.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Dougherty, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hazard, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Baker and family, Mr. M. A. Baker and daughters, Misses Emma and Ida; Bob Hazard, Mr. and Mrs. Will Hess, and Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Hess.

Prominent Physician Here

Mrs. A. M. Starkey of 1068 West Second street, is having the pleasure of a visit from her aunt, Dr. Lucinda H. Corr of Carlisle, Ill., whom she has not seen since childhood. The doctor and her late husband, Dr. Campbell Corr, were probably the best known physicians of their state, the latter being president of the State Board of Health and also the State Medical Society.

The doctor has been visiting the principal cities and beaches of the Pacific coast since last October, and will soon return to her Illinois home.

HEART-TOUCHING APPEAL

Miss Holman Told Methodist Society of Conditions of Women in India

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the First Methodist church, which met at the home of Mrs. Curtis on South Main street, was addressed by Miss Holman of India, who is at home on furlough. She first introduced a lady dressed in Indian costume, and said that the Indian garments never knew a needle nor scissors. Her address, dealing especially with the conditions of women and girls in India, was one of interest, causing those present to rejoice that they lived in a land where women are uplifted by Christianity, and inspiring them with a desire to do more for the enlightenment of those in heathen lands. She repeated the following psalm of contrasts:

The night lies dark upon the earth, and WE have light;
So many have to probe their way, and WE have sight.
One path is theirs and ours, of sin and care,
But we are borne along, and they footsore, heart-weary, faint they on their way.
Mute in their sorrow, while we kneel and pray.
Glad are they of a stone on which to rest,
While we are pillowed on our Father's breast.
Father, whist is it these children roam,
And I with Thee so glad at rest at home?

Is it enough to leave the gate ajar, in home that some may see the gleam of afar
And guess that this is home and urge their way
To reach it happy, somehow, some day?
May I not go and lead them of my light,
May not my eyes be unto them of sight,
May not the brother love Thy love portray
And news of home make home less far away?

Yea, Christ has said that as for these He came
To seek and save, so hath he in His Name
Sent us to those, and Father, we would go,
Glad in Thy love that Thou hast willed it so;
That we should be partakers in the joy
Which even on earth knows naught of Earth's alloy,
The joy which grows as others' griefs grow less
And could not live but for its power to bless.

Miss Holman made a special appeal that the society adopt a missionary assistant in the Aymer school for girls. During the social hour which followed the address, the committee served refreshments, and greetings were exchanged.

Was Six Years Old

Little Miss Phyllis Hill reached her sixth milestone of life yesterday and to enjoy it to the utmost she and her mother, Mrs. G. P. Hill invited fourteen of her little neighborhood playmates in the afternoon. There were merry juvenile games and these and the refreshments that were served for the little ones were appropriate to St. Patrick's Day.

South Dakota Picnic

The South Dakota picnic held yesterday in Orange County Park under the auspices of the Orange County South Dakota Association was a royal success. There were seventy-one members of the association present to enjoy the delightful day and the merriment of an out-of-door affair. Never were the big live oaks or the giant sycamores prettier than yesterday. Everyone enjoyed the beautiful park, and entered heartily into the sports of the day, which included the pitching of horse shoes and the climbing of hills to scan the magnificent views of valley and orchard and town lying like a panorama below. The picnic dinner was naturally one of the best.

The pall bearers were Theo. Lacy, Sr., Tom McDonald, James Driggs, A. C. Drake, Al Oederlin and Elmer Atwood of Los Angeles. Miss Larue Phipps sang two sweet and familiar hymns.

Well known, kind, patient and beloved, Mr. Buckingham will be mourned by a wide circle of friends. At his death, he was attended by his faithful nurse, Mr. Oak, and by Mrs. Buckingham, the loyal wife who had been his companion for forty-nine years, her voice being the last to sound in his deafening ears.

Card of Thanks
When sorrow, deep and lasting, such as has come to the home of ourselves and those we love by the fading of the flower whose life was no perfume of our existence, the death of one beloved and cherished daughter, Angia Hinton, now when our hearts have been made mellow and tender toward all our friends, we Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hinton, wish in the hush of the hour of our sadness and sorrow to thank our dear and loving friends and neighbors, whose attention and kindness in the days of her long suffering did, by their helpfulness, relieve her pain, and also now that she has been called by the great God who commands the universe, have made this burden almost easy to bear. It is our hope and wish that when a like burden shall come to them, as come it must, they may have about them friends and neighbors as dear and faithful as we have had in this dark hour.

EVERY WIFE'S DUTY

Watch Husband's Hair. If Thin or Full of Dandruff Insist on His Using Parisian Sage

Men give but little thought to the care of the hair. Not until the first bald spot appears do they really take notice. If your husband's hair is getting thin; if he has dandruff or itching scalp, take immediate action—do not let him become a bald head.

Get from any drug or toilet counter a 50 cent bottle of Parisian Sage. The first application stops itching head and removes dandruff—the great hair destroyer. A little Parisian Sage rubbed well into the scalp for a few nights will stop hair wonders. When the hair stops falling and the new growth appears, a frequent use of this invigorating tonic is all that is needed to make the hair perfectly healthy, thick and beautiful.

Surely try Parisian Sage. Rowley Drug Co. sells it with an agreement to refund your money if not satisfied. It's a delightful hair tonic for men and women.—Advertisement.

Prices Published—Books Can Be Bought of State if No Book Dealers Near

SACRAMENTO, March 19.—The State Board of Education has fixed the price of state books and they can be purchased after the first of next month from book dealers in the various cities and towns. Where there are no dealers books can be purchased direct from Edward Hyatt, state superintendent of public instruction by remitting the price plus postage.

The price at which the books will be sold is much below the former price, although the royalty is the same and the postage about as much.

The sale price is on the average fifty per cent less than under the former administration of the state printing office.

The first column below shows the price plus royalties and will be the price at Sacramento to dealers who must pay the freight or express charges. The last column shows the price for single books sent by mail and it is also the maximum price at which dealers can sell to the public. Superintendent Hyatt requests purchasers to notify him if any attempt is made to charge more than these amounts. The state board made these prices in figures ending in 9 and 5 so that parents and pupils would not be taxed the odd cents by dealers.

NAVEL CROP AT COMPLETE LINE ANAHEIM IS NEAR END TO ORANGE BY MAY 1

While Prices Low, So Far Two Shoup Tells Orange Trustees Associations Have Nothing Difficulty With Santa Fe in Red is Adjusted

Anaheim Herald: Notwithstanding the uncertainty of the eastern markets and the competition of the Florida fruit, both the Anaheim Fruit Association and the Anaheim Orange Growers' Association report that every car shipped this season has yielded a profit, not a single red ink return being received. The price received from most of the sales was very low in comparison with last year, but owing to the extraordinarily heavy crop and its excellent grade the growers will receive as much money for their harvest as they did last season.

The bulk of the navel crop has been shipped and the packers will soon be handling the St. Mike's, bloods and sweets. At the Anaheim Fruit Association's packing house Saturday it was stated that 30 cars had been packed and sent to market, leaving 25 cars of navels yet to pick. The navels will all be cleared away by the middle of April. A month or more will be required to handle the St. Michaels, bloods and sweets, and packing the Valentias will begin early in June. There will be no close-down of intermission, immediately one crop is out of the way work will begin on the next, and it will be late in the autumn before the last of the Valentias leave for the eastern markets.

The Anaheim Fruit Association's estimate of its shipments at the opening of the season was 305 cars, and this estimate still prevails. It will probably be a little above that figure as it is considered a very conservative guess.

The Anaheim Orange Growers' Association is also making good progress with the crop and getting fair returns. Every car shipped has returned a profit. Two more weeks, according to Manager N. B. Walter, will see the end of the navel shipments, and he expects to have the smaller crops out of the way of the Valentias by June. This house will ship during the season 225 cars, which will make the total shipments by the two associations 530 cars. Mr. Walter's fruit is also of an exceptionally high grade and the yield of the orchards is abnormally large.

Many complaints have been made that oranges are dropping from the trees owing to weather conditions, and much loss is being experienced therefrom. This, according to the packers, is a benefit instead of a damage as all the oranges that fall would have been weeded out as culls. By dropping from the trees much time and expense is therefore saved in handling them.

Orange News: The Pacific Electric line will be completed into Orange by May 1st, at latest, probably within thirty days, according to President Shoup, who gave that assurance to the Orange councilmen in an interview in Los Angeles today.

The long delay in completing the Orange line has been due, according to Mr. Shoup, to trouble in getting permission to cross the Santa Fe road south of Orange. A large volume of correspondence has passed between the roads on the subject without an adjustment being reached, but, said Mr. Shoup, the solution of the difficulty has finally been found, and the permission to cross will be granted within a few days.

The five members of the city council—Trustees Dittmer, Smith, Stoner, Richards and Hagen—met Mr. Shoup by appointment this morning and went over the situation with him. They received assurances that the Pacific Electric is anxious to complete the line, and that there will be no delay when the crossing matter with the Santa Fe is adjusted. This, Mr. Shoup said, would be, at the outside, but a few days.

Asked concerning the switch to West Fourth street, Santa Ana, from Main street, which has been refused the Pacific Electric by the Santa Ana officials, Mr. Shoup said that the failure to secure that concession from Santa Ana would in no way affect building the line to Orange.

Mr. Shoup stated that the company would attempt to re-routing the paving on West Chapman street without delay. The company had previously advised the street superintendent to the same effect.

ORANGE

SPENT AFTERNOON WITH NEEDLEWORK

(By Staff Correspondent.)
ORANGE, March 19.—The Wednesday Afternoon Embroidery Club held a meeting yesterday with Mrs. Harry Winslow at her home in Nutwood. A delightful afternoon was spent with needlework and social conversation, and at 5:30 the hostess served a delicious luncheon in the dining room. Nine members and one guest, Mrs. D. Smith, were present.

The club adjourned to meet again in two weeks with Mrs. George Sunbury on South Cypress street.

About fifty Odd Fellows with their wives surprised District Deputy President W. W. Perry last evening at his home on East Collins avenue. Mr. Perry was presented with a past grand's "collar," in remembrance of the occasion. The guests brought refreshments of ice cream and wafers, and all enjoyed the evening immensely.

Mrs. Melton and her daughter, Mrs. Grace Perkins of Mackey, Idaho, who are visiting the winter in Southern California and who have been visiting their son and brother L. J. Melton, of the Miles grocery, for several days, leave today for Los Angeles and Coalinga where they will spend a week before returning to their home in Idaho.

The music and art department of Orange High School is preparing for a two act operetta, entitled "The Wind Mills of Holland," which it expects to present within two or three weeks.

Mrs. Alfred Higgins left this morning for Highland Park, where she will spend the rest of the week with her mother, Mrs. Hanna. Mr. Higgins will join her Friday evening.

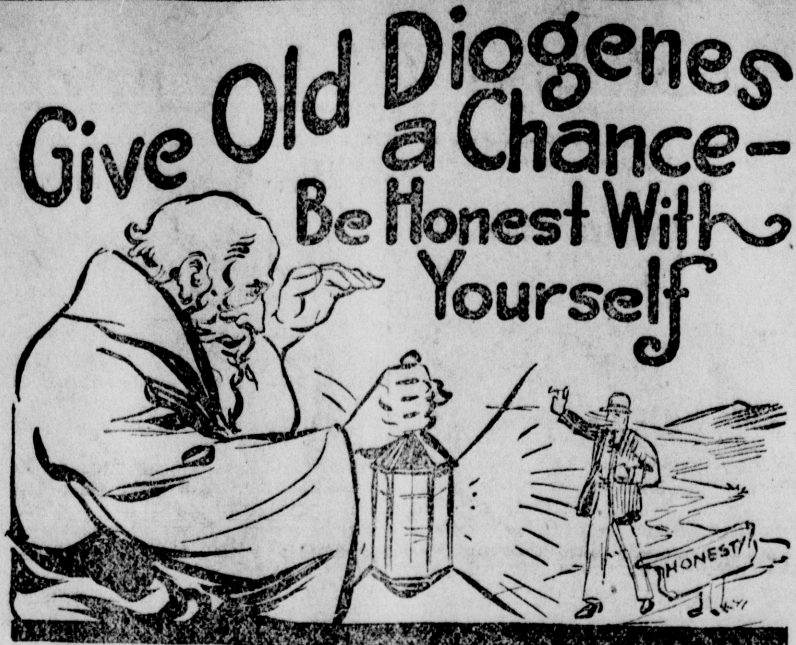

Paul Ray, son of George M. Ray of North Shafter street, was hurt last evening in a motorcycle accident. He was riding on East Chapman avenue and was forced to make a short turn to avoid running into the automobile of G. N. Atwood. His machine fell on him, dislocating his right arm. Mr. Atwood brought him to Dr. Royer's office where his injuries were given attention.

Mr. Dexter, special agent for the Aetna Life Insurance Company, who has been spending a few days in Orange, left today for San Diego.

Dr. W. B. Wood and his son William, of South Pasadena, were in Orange for a short time yesterday. Mr. Jewell of Perry, Iowa, who has been visiting at the A. R. Smith home, 524 East Chapman avenue, since last Friday, left yesterday for his home.

Special "Health Warning" for March—March is a trying month for the very young and for elderly people. Croup, bronchial colds, influenza and pneumonia are to be feared and avoided. Foley's Honey and Tar is a great family medicine that will quickly stop a cough, check the progress of a cold, and relieve inflamed and congested air passages. E. C. Rhodes, Middleton, Ga., says: "La grippe gave me a hacking cough for which I got no relief until I took Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, and was soon well of both cough and cold." IN SUCH PAIN WOMAN CRIED Suffered Everything Until Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Florence, So. Dakota. "I used to be very sick every month with bearing down pains and headache, and had a good deal of the time and very little appetite. The pains were so bad that I used to sit right down on the floor and cry, because it hurt me so and I could not do any work at those times. An old woman advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I got a bottle. I felt better the next month so I took three more bottles of it and got well so I could work all the time. I hope every woman who suffers like I did will try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. P. W. LANSING, Route No. 1, Florence, South Dakota.

Why will women continue to suffer day in and day out or drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, etc.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

PERMIT GIVEN FOR PIPELINE

Southern California Gas Co. Can Run Its Line Across the County

L. E. Miller Gets Judgment for Two Lots Concerned in Friend Suit

Today there was filed with the county clerk a copy of the decision of the Railroad Commission granting the Southern California Gas Co. a permit to lay a pipeline for oil or natural gas in this county. The permit allows the company to lay its pipes along any county road in the county north of a line that runs along the northwest and north lines of the Irvine Co. ranch. This franchise was granted by the county so that the company can supply gas to Newport Beach and Huntington Beach.

This morning judgment was entered in favor of L. E. Miller in a suit brought by John K. Friend against Miller and J. H. Boney. Two lots at

HEADACHY, COSTIVE, BILIOUS,--"CASCARETS"

Liver and Bowels Are Clogged—Clean Them Tonight! Feel Bulky!

Get a 10-cent box. Sick headache, biliousness, dizziness, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath—always trace them to torpid liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels or sour, gassy stomach. Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is reabsorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist means your head clear, stomach sweet and your liver and bowels regular for months.—Advertisement.

Anaheim were concerned. Friend asserted that Boney got Mrs. Friend, who is Spanish and not well acquainted with the English language, to sign a paper. This paper was a deed to the property. Mrs. Friend thought it notice of completion of a building. Friend sued to get title to the property, but Boney had deeded it to Miller. When the case was called for trial today before Judge Thomas, Friend did not appear and judgment went to Miller, Attorney F. C. Spencer representing him.

ORANGE FOLDERS

GALORE SENT EAST

State Being Advertised by Railroads—Oranges on Tap Everywhere Saturday

Seventy-five thousand orange folders were yesterday added to former editions of the unique advertisement issued by the Salt Lake road, which brings the total number to $25,000 printed since 1906, says the Los Angeles Tribune. The orange folder is in the shape and size of an orange and contains many attractive pages of data about Southern California.

"We will send them to our agents in all parts of America as usual," said T. C. Peck, general passenger agent. "They are small and easy to slip in the coat pocket and therefore more of them find their way to the home where they are read by the family than is the case with most folders."

Telegrams, to be posted as bulletins in enlarged type at the offices of the Southern Pacific road in all cities, are being sent out daily by Charles S. Fee, passenger traffic manager. One wired east yesterday read as follows: "Ideal weather for outdoor recreations prevailing throughout California. Motor road and golf links in excellent condition. Temperature, San Francisco, 70; Los Angeles, 78. California oranges luscious, ripe and plentiful. March 21 has been fixed as orange day. Every one urged to use this healthful fruit."

Every hotel and restaurant and club in California and adjoining states is prepared to serve oranges in abundance Saturday.

RIOTS IN LIMA FOLLOW ARRIVAL OF V. P. LEGUIA

WASHINGTON, March 19.—Reports of rioting in Lima, capital of Peru, following the arrival there of Robert Leguia, first vice-president of Peru, were yesterday interpreted as indicating that Leguia will not be permitted to assume the office of president, to which he is entitled as a result of the deposition of President Billinghurst by a military coup d'etat last month.

The rioting centered about Leguia's residence in Lima, it is reported, and only a strong guard prevented the mob from entering the house of the unpopular official.

JUDGE W. H. THOMAS PERFORMS CEREMONY FOR THE FIRST TIME

Yesterday afternoon for the first time, Superior Judge Thomas performed a marriage ceremony. It is not often that a superior judge here is called upon to tie the knot, but John R. Wyatt, an attorney of Portland, Ore., declared that he wanted neither minister nor justice of the peace. He wanted a judge, and Judge W. H. Thomas married Wyatt, aged 49, to Wyatt's former wife, Lydia Faber, aged 52, also of Portland. At first the judge declined to marry the couple because each had been divorced, but when he was informed that it was re-marriage he agreed to administer the vows.

The case was continued till tomorrow.

BOX OF ORANGES UNITE LONG SEPARATED KIN

PANA, Ill., March 19.—Following a separation of forty-eight years, during which time neither sister nor brother heard from each other, Jasper Florey, 79 years old, yesterday received word that his sister was alive. This message came to him through a box of navel oranges sent by his sister, now Mrs. E. A. Thompson of Santa Clara, Cal.

Florey, who is a Civil War veteran and resident of Pana for fifty years, is in a maze as to how his sister has learned his address.

USE OF VERNON IS DONATED BY DOYLE

Santa Ana and Los Angeles Moose to Use Diamond for Home Grounds

TALK OF THREE-DAY SERIES AT SAN DIEGO

"Pop" Deck Gradually Getting His Men Into Shape for Speedy Season

Jack Doyle, manager of the Vernon ball grounds, has donated to the Santa Ana and Los Angeles Moose teams the free use of the park. Everybody always knew that Doyle was a regular fellow, but when he came through with his handsome offer he went up fifty per cent in the estimation of the Moose fans.

"Pop" Deck, father of the Santa Ana Moose ball team, is going to use Vernon Park as the home grounds for his aggregation. The Los Angeles Moose will of course do the same.

Deck has a card from Louis Salazar, of Del Rosa, stating that Salazar would like a game. Deck says that if Salazar comes through with expense money he will take up the Del Rosa man's offer in a hurry. Del Rosa is said to be about thirty miles north of Santa Barbara. If the two managers can get together the trip will certainly be enjoyed by the local nine.

There is some talk of playing a three-game series at San Diego some time in the next month or two. If this matures games will be played between the Los Angeles and Santa Ana Moose and the San Diego team.

Another game at Vernon? Manager Peters, of the Angel City Moose Club, is very anxious to get another game. He immediately with Deck's nine. "Pop" made friends last Sunday at Vernon when he took his bunch to the scrapp city. The fact that he was defeated to the tune of 4 to 2 and that his men were nearly all soft makes both the managers hot for another chance at each other.

Last Sunday's Game That game last Sunday brought out a lot of interesting dope. Although the greater number of Deck's men had thrown a ball for over a year they showed up remarkably well. Take Brownie, for instance. The last time the nidget heaved the pill was last Fourth of July. He made errors, of course, at second, but when Deck put him in the box in the seventh, which was the total of innings played, Brown fanned three. That's going some for a man with a soft arm. Dubois showed up according to his old-time form, and McCreedy wasn't behind in gathering them in behind the bat. Luxembourgier, Walters, Carver, Freeman, Thompson and Phips handled themselves well. Walters especially did some remarkably clean fielding. If he keeps on he will make one of the best little shortstops in the amateur ranks.

The Sunday game got things started. Deck had a chance to try out his men, to see how they were fitted for the different positions. Of course, there will be one or two changes in the line-up for future games, but, take it all in all, the men used last Sunday will have a chance to use the warming-up stuff they got.

POLY NINE AND L.A. SCHOOLMASTERS TO MIX HERE SATURDAY

Saturday afternoon the Polytechnic nine is to meet the Los Angeles Schoolmasters' team on the Poly field. Coach Ratcliffe and Captain Carver of the Cardinal and Whites are going to have their hands full holding down the Angel City pedagogues. The schoolmasters are all former baseball stars of colleges and universities. They have exceptional swatting ability and know the game from A to Z. Occasional played the schoolmasters several days ago and had a hard time beating them.

SPECIAL EXHIBIT OF STUDEBAKER CARS

A special exhibit of Studebaker automobiles was opened this morning by the Wm. F. Lutz Company and will be continued the remainder of this week. The local concern has all the latest Studebaker models on its salesroom floor and will keep open house, both during the day and evenings. The company's sales force will be on hand to welcome visitors and to demonstrate the many good points of the cars. In addition to the pleasure cars, it has one of the new panel body delivery cars on display. Everybody is invited. Go in and see the fine line of cars.

CLARENCE M. BEEBE, ANAHEIM SPRINTER, WHO MAY MAKE OLYMPIC GAMES

There is another Orange county athlete who is beginning to make them sit up and take notice. Clarence M. Beebe is his name. He hails from Anaheim and is now a student of the high school at that place. He has broken so many long distance interscholastic running records on this coast that there is no doubt whatever that he will be a successful contestant at the Olympic try-outs.

Beebe is the ideal high school athlete. He works like a Trojan both in his studies and in his training. There is nothing of the snob about him. So far as popularity goes he is held in the highest esteem not only by his fellow students but by all the members of the California schools and colleges. Unlike a great number of athletes Beebe enters heartily into the social life about him. He is a leader among those with whom he is brought into contact.

One of the remarkable things about this runner is that he does practically all his own training. He seems to have the faculty of being able to study himself and his strong and weak points. Beebe understands himself thoroughly. Three afternoons out of the week he devotes to sprints and two afternoons to the distance runs. The records he makes are proof that he has the right system.

Beebe's last achievement was to break last Saturday, his own record set last year of 1:59 4-5 for the half mile. He loped around the track in 1:58 3-5, cutting down his former record by 1 1-5 seconds. There is small danger that this mark will be cut down unless Beebe himself takes it into his head to lower the record for the others to try for.

In the four-lap event last Saturday Beebe made a new county record by slicing off almost 10 seconds from his own mark. He ran the mile in 4 minutes 33 4-5 seconds. The clockers have caught the Mother Colony sprinter at 4:35 for the mile, though this is not official. He goes to Stanford on April 11, to compete in track events. In 1913 Beebe gathered ten gold medals and three loving cups for himself. What he has done:

On March 8, 1913, at Santa Ana, won the mile and broke the interscholastic record for the half mile. Time, 1:59 4-5.

February 22, 1913, in the A. A. U. meet at the University of Southern California, won the mile and the half mile.

April 5, 1913, at Berkeley, won the mile and the half mile. April 12, 1913, at Stanford, broke both the record of Stanford and the interscholastic. Time, half mile, 2:01 2-5; mile, 4:38. Won two cups and two gold medals.

That Anaheim citizens are proud of Beebe is evidenced by the fact that when he returned from Stanford after having won his high honors he was met at the train by the Anaheim Board of Trade. A large loving cup, a token of the esteem in which the young runner is held, was placed in the automobile that brought Beebe from the train. A large parade was formed and the future champion of Olympic games was escorted to the high school, where a formal presentation and acceptance of the loving cup was made.

been played so far is 750, and that's going some. In the game with Whitfield Corrallo clouded one over the right field fence for a homer. He has been with the high school teams ever since he played second base on the championship of 1911. He has been playing first only since the beginning of the present season.

Duhart is There, Too To be able to hold down the shortstop job and to be a good utility man as well as second pitcher of a team, these are things that all players can't do. Duhart does them all without any trouble. He has a great throw, head work, and is sure on grounders. Few throws to second ever get by him, and base runners on second need to stick around pretty close or Pete habs them. Duhart is up on the rules, takes a big interest in the game, and is improving at the bat. He acts as relief for Warren in the box.

Snow Not Slow A newcomer this year is Horace Snow, who does the honors at second. He handles himself remarkably well considering the experience he has had. Snow covers the ground on and near second station in a very speedy manner. He is a light hitter, but with the right sort of coaching and lots of gameness he is sure to overcome this trouble.

"Big Spud," All-Round Man This is "Big Spud" Morrison's second year on the ball team. Besides being the manager he is also another star of the nine's handy men, being able to deliver the goods in the outfield as well as in the catcher's box when Duhart is sent in to relieve Warren. Spud is a left-handed batter, and a frstrate base runner. He shows lots of pep in the game, being wide-awake on bases. His kiding of the pitchers does quite a lot to help win games.

Center Improves at Bat The center fielder, Walter Elliott, is putting in his second year on the team. He is a sure fielder. Though somewhat weak in batting he is showing up better so far this season than last. Against Whittier he got two hits out of four times up.

Adams a Good Fielder Anthony Adams, who helps things along in the left pasture, is another sure fielder. He, too, is light with the stick. Ratcliffe says that practically the one weakness of the team lies in the light hitting of the outfielders. Were this remedied, and the chances are that it will be, the team will be come far better balanced.

Lots of Talent Thompson, a new man in Santa Ana, is being given try-outs for the outfield. He is a left-handed batter, a good base runner, and shows lots of ginger on bases and on the coaching line.

Joe Irvine is showing up strong. He, too, is getting his first try-out on the ball team this year. He is a heavy slicer. Other utility men who are giving great promise of developing into good players are Bernard Parker, Biggs, John Cannon and Walter Wagner.

S.A.A.C. FISTIC TALENT TO SEE AMATEURS BOX AT ANGEL CITY CLUB

Coming Smokers and Hikes; Business Men Take Kindly to Indoor Baseball

A great many of the boys of the Athletic Club are interested in the tournament to be held at the Los Angeles Athletic Club, beginning tonight and continuing Friday and Saturday nights. This tournament is the biggest amateur boxing tournament ever held in Southern California. All the amateur championship titles on the Pacific coast, from the 108-pound boys to the heavyweights, are at stake.

Baker, Culver, Grouard and Foley are among those who are going up Saturday to get pointers which will come in handy for the event that the local Athletic Club is to put on the latter part of April.

Hiking Team Goes to Laguna In this day of means of mechanical locomotion the beneficial results of walking are largely lost sight of. Walking brings into play all the muscles of the body, brings one out into the fresh air and tones up the entire system. When walking clubs are organized the social element makes "hiking" all the more enjoyable.

A week from Sunday from twelve to fifteen boys of the Athletic Club Hiking Team will walk to Laguna Beach. Revell will be sounded at 4 o'clock, and whether the fellows are through pounding their pillows or not they'll have to crawl out and hike. And there'll be no breakfast, either, until the bunch gets to Laguna. Several hours of loafing around the beach village will be followed by a swim. The homeward trip will be made along the palisades, via Corona Del Mar, Balboa and Huntington Beach.

Next Smoker First Week in April The next regular smoker of the Santa Ana Athletic Club will be held during the first week in April, probably on the 2nd, in order not to conflict with the plans of club members who will take fishing trips when the season opens. Ten or twelve A. C. men have definitely announced that they will go fishing on April 1.

Indoor Baseball Popular Indoor baseball is meeting with great favor among the local bankers and business men who are members of the Athletic Club. From one to two games are played each week between teams called the Bankers and the All-Stars. In the last game played the Bankers won with a score of 4 to 2. The game was called at 5:15 Monday afternoon. Another game was played between these two teams this afternoon at 5:15.

NEW YORK'S AMATEUR BILLIARD TOURNNEY

Heddon Sets New Mark for High Run; Gardner Ties With Poggenburg for First Place

NEW YORK, March 19.—Playing his fifth game in the national amateur billiard championship tourney yesterday, Charles Heddon of Dowagiac, Mich., defeated Eugene L. Milburn of Memphis, Tenn., 400 to 180, and incidentally made a run of 135, which is the highest in this year's contest and sets a new mark in play for the national title. Heddon now has a splendid chance to capture the special high-run trophy.

In his game today the Michigan state champion essayed seventeen masse shots and made all but two. Milburn, having failed to win a bracket, finished low man in the contest.

The scores of yesterday's games: Heddon, 400; average, 16; high runs, 135, 36, 33. Milburn, 180; average, 7 13-24; high runs, 37, 28, 21.

Edward W. Gardner of New York suffered his first loss last night and as a result is tied with his conqueror, A. Ferdinand Poggenburg of New York, for the first place, with four wins and one loss each. Score: Poggenburg, 400; average, 12 4-33; high runs, 73, 39, 39. Gardner, 395; average, 9 8-33; high runs, 42, 39, 36.

ALEXANDRIA PARLORS TO STAGE 18:2 TOURNNEY

In the near future a chance will be given the rapidly increasing number of classy amateur billiard players to settle their differences in this city. The management of the Alexandria parlors is planning to arrange an 18:2 tournament to be played possibly within the next month. Tentative plans call for a preliminary tournament which will weed out a number of the less expert. When the main event is staged a championship cup will be put up. This should be an incentive to the various players to redouble their number of practise games.

The names of the entrants and the date of the tourney will be announced later.

Arnold Kruckman Has Charge of Round-the-World Aeroplane Race

Arnold Kruckman, head of the bureau of aeronautics at the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco, is the man on whom rests the responsibility for the round-the-world aeroplane race which has been advertised as one of the features of the great exposition. The race is planned to start and finish on the grounds of the exposition during next year while the show is in progress. While many doubts have been expressed as to the advisability of attempting such a feat in the present stage of aeroplane development, Mr. Kruckman is enthusiastic about the possibilities of the race.

WHETHER THEY FISH FOR 'EM OR BUY 'EM THEY GET 'EM, SEE?

Circumstantial evidence: John Joplin and Jim Halsell go down to Serra Saturday with the avowed intention of fishing, or rather gathering in some of the grunyon, or smelt or sardines, or whatever you call 'em—the little fish that come out on the surf every year at this time for spawning purposes. In due course of time said Joplin and Halsell return to Santa Ana much encumbered with quantities of the fish. They, the men, are at no pains to contradict certain tales which start going the rounds relative to the first-rate fishing ability of Messrs. Joplin and Halsell. In fact, not only are they not at pains to make the aforementioned contradictions, but if what the little birds say is true, they even add a little word now and then to further the impression that when it comes to fishing there are a few who can equal the prowess of one Joplin and one Halsell.

Comes into Santa Ana then, day before yesterday, the amiable Richard C. App, proprietor of Serra's tent city. Quite casually and without malice aforethought this genial Clapp mentions the fact that he seized at Serra on Sunday and garnered a result of the said sealing several large washtubs full of the grunyon, or smelt or sardines or what you call 'em. Says Clapp, also, that he sold out his entire stock of fish.

Now it seems that there is a colored man somewhere in the kindling. Either Joplin and Halsell are some pumpkins as fishermen and Clapp's sealing business is going to the bows-ows or— Figure it out for yourself. P. S.—It is rumored that Commodore Beard is NOT a deep sea commodore.

UNCLE SAM BUYS AUTO TRUCK IN L. A.

Republic Will Go Into the Indian Service at Casa Grande

Lee R. Carpenter of the L. C. Carpenter Company, distributor for the Republic trucks, reports an important deal made last week.

"The other morning," said Carpenter, "I was called up over the phone and notified that the United States government had decided to purchase a Republic truck. When I took the order, Hugh P. Coultis, special district agent, informed me that about six other makes had been investigated.

"Mr. Coultis then informed me that the Republic had won the official sanction because it was standardized. The government engineers who had made the investigations, reported the Republic as being strong enough for the most strenuous work—an essential item, as the truck will be fitted with an express body and used in the United States Indian service at Casa Grande, Arizona.—Los Angeles Examiner.

P. W. Thelan is Orange county agent for the Republic Motor trucks.

THEY MAY PLAY FOR TENNIS HONORS

Bunch of Racket Enthusiasts Want to Meet the Schoolmasters

There are a number of Santa Ana tennis players who are scheming to get the scalps of a number of pedagogues who sometimes play tennis to reduce flesh and harden muscles. If plans do not go astray it will be only a week or two before a tournament is held six on a side between the challengers and the teachers.

There is a brand new cement court at the Polytechnic High School, and its extraordinary qualities have induced a good many classy games. Hardly an evening of the week goes by without something of the kind being pulled off by the racket worshippers.

Another excellent court is that maintained at the corner of Bush street and Washington avenue. If constant practice makes perfect, some of the Santa Anans who have been taking exercise on that court for lo, these many months, ought to be in fine condition to give the educational experts a run for their trouble.

Among the schoolmasters who may be found in the proposed tournament are Cranston, McMath, Montgomery, Barr, Hammond and Bovee. The Orange County Title Co. is a hot-bed of tennis enthusiasts, among them F. W. Manning, C. E. Parker and E. B. Sprague. The two court reporters, Lester Slaback and Eugene Stanley, never miss a chance to pass a few over the net at each other or some other persons. G. E. Peters and A. W. Rutan are players from whom a tournament team may be picked.

TWO KNIGHTS OF ROD AND REEL WHO FISH FOR THEIR HEALTHS

You wouldn't believe it, but two knights of the rod and reel have been discovered who don't fish for the pleasure of it nor for the amount of game they can haul out of the water. They are Howard Turner and "Doc" Patton. "Away with your ravings about the glories of fishing," say these two. "We fish for our health!"

That's the answer. Can you beat it? They battle for hours with the finny denizens of the deep, and acquire blisters and sunburns, not because they like the sport for its own sake nor because huge catches may help them to solve the cost of high living. No. They fish because the sport has been prescribed for them by the medicos. It's a queer world.

They're the greatest rivals in the amateur fishing business. Every time Doc lands a big one Howard can't enjoy his slumbers until he hauls one in that's just a little bit pulper. And vice versa.

Turner's Happiest Moment

Howard Turner says that the happiest moment of his life was once when he dreamed that he was out in a boat fishing with Patton. All was going as smoothly as could be expected. Nothing had occurred to ruffle the serenity of mutual friendship, when all of a sudden Doc commenced to haul away on his line. After a lot of frantic hauling on the part of Patton his catch finally came to the surface—a whopper of a fish. A fish so big that it almost capsize the boat. Turner noticed a fendish grin of triumph on Doc's amiable countenance—a maddening expression of victory as it might be termed. It was more than Turner could stand. He took out his trusty jack-knife, "snuck" up alongside of Patton and—cut the line that held the fish.

That was the happiest moment in Turner's life. But of course it was only a dream.

ANAHEIM MARKSMEN PICK OFF BLUE ROCKS

Anaheim Gazette: The gun club smashed a number of blue rocks at the grounds on North West street Sunday afternoon. Alfred Bittner carried off the honors, breaking 41 out of 50 rocks. Frank Mauerhan was second with 36 scores and Pete Wisner third, breaking 34. The club has just installed a new automatic trap. The membership of the club at present is 25, and the boys extend an invitation to all who care for the sport to join the club. Visitors are also welcome.

BANKS WILL RETIRE AS BILLIARD EXPERT

George Banks, former pocket billiard champion of the coast, has decided to retire from the game. Banks says he will play a few games with persons he knows, but as far as championship contests are concerned there will be nothing doing. One of his last games was played at the Alexandria parlors, this city.

ABOUT RUSSIAN WOLF
HOUNDS OWNED BY SEVERAL LOCAL MEN

Also, a Tale of a Lynx, Two Pups, a Man on Horseback and an Aerial Flight

Besides the fox hound there is another variety of hound being used in this county for the extermination of coyotes, bob cats and other "varmints" detrimental to game, namely, the Russian wolf hound. Arthur McFadden has four of these handsome hunters at his ranch near Myford. McFadden was the first to introduce the dogs. They are thoroughbreds and carried off at the honors at the last Los Angeles Bench Show.

For speed and certainty there is no equal to the Russian wolf hound. While they are not quite as fast as greyhounds in running coyotes, they are immeasurably faster than the fox hounds. The Russian does run entirely by sight and succeed in bringing a coyote down in about five or ten minutes, on an average.

William Jeffries, Elmer Cubbon and Ben Nimmo all own several of the hounds. There is a story floating about that when Elmer first got his Russian hounds they were pups, about nine months old. Rumor has it that Nimmo was out on horseback one day, when the pups cornered a lynx. The young dogs, not having had sufficient experience in the art of killing things, did not succeed in immediately putting the lynx out of the way. Nevertheless they held on and were giving the animal a hard tussle, when all of a sudden the lynx jumped up on the horse behind Elmer. It is said, and not at all hard to believe, that this procedure considerably disturbed the mental equilibrium of Elmer's trusty charger. At any rate, if hearsay may be credited, the equine, after the amiable manner of its kind, "fared up on his hind legs" and caused Nimmo to be catapulted somewhat precipitantly through the circumambient ozone. How it all ended report saith not, but it is not at all doubtful that the lynx finally suffered elaborate bodily injury at the hands of the deposed rider.

ANAHEIM LAD RUNS
WINNING HALF-MILE

Syril Tipton of Anaheim has developed into first-class timber as a sprinter. In the annual meet Saturday between his college, the U. S. C., and the State University, he won the half-mile race. This race was described as one of the sensations of the day. Tipton won by using his head. Crabbe and Cuendett, the California pair, lit out like a couple of scared jack rabbits and had a comfortable lead at the end of the first lap, but as they hit the last turn the pace began to tell and the long striding Trojan passed them up in a snorting finish, clipping one-fifth of a second from the Southern California intercollegiate record.

TWO GREATEST PROMOTERS COMPETING FOR BOXERS OVER WORLD

JIM COFFROTH

"SNOWY" BAKER

Jim Coffroth, the sunshine promoter of boxing bouts in San Francisco, and "Snowy" Baker, the most important promoter in the same line Australia has known, are now in New York hunting boxers. Baker will take all the first-class men he can find to Australia, while Coffroth wants to sign these men for a big carnival of boxing at the Panama Exposition in Frisco.

If Baker gets the boxers they could, of course, return to the United States before Coffroth would need them next year. Again, they might not do so. Coffroth has a concession for his boxing carnival at the fair and he proposes to put on wrestling and other exhibitions, some of which may be championship contests. If Baker takes all the first-class boxers to Australia they may remain over next year. Sam Langford remained there two years and Jack Johnson would have stayed longer had they permitted him.

Baker thinks he has induced Packie McFarland and Willie Ritchie to cross the Pacific to Australia. He is looking for more American champions to do the same thing.

Sporting Briefs of the Week

[By Hal Sheridan]

NEW YORK, March 19.—Now comes the swing into the stretch for the Winter League. With the first games of the regular season less than a month away, box scores, hits, errors and cries of "bone-head" and other appellations dear to the heart of the American, but now demonstrated as thoroughly beyond the grasp of the English, will take the place of large gobbs of conversation.

This is the golden age for the ball players. With the Federal League kicking in and exhibiting young mints to players in return for their consideration of contracts, salaries have scaled to heights that would make bank presidents, cabinet officers and corporation heads stagger a bit. The $36,000 wad to be presented to this Speaker for two years' work tops the heap, and organized baseball has gone down in its pockets to the extent of many more thousands in increased salaries.

President Ebbets of Brooklyn is said to have signed Dick Egan at $17,000 for three years. And Egan is not a star by a mile. A 250 batter at best and nothing flashy as an infielder, the former Cincinnati Red will receive more money from Brooklyn than he ever received before. In the wild scramble to prevent the Federals from signing men false values have been set up.

The stove league session just closing, one of the wildest in history, is not a flash in the pan. Whether the Federal organization becomes a real third major league or expires, the seed for the re-jiggering of many angles to the national pastime has been planted. Whether the Feds become a real major league this year or the next, or some other league assumes this proud position, doesn't matter in the broad sense of things, but there WILL be a third major league. Organized baseball believes that. Magnates have had a vague feeling for some time that the way was opening up for another big circuit. The sudden plunge the Feds took headed them off for the time being.

In the search for someone who might be held responsible for the present position of baseball, President Ebbets of Brooklyn recently stepped forward with the declaration that the "Three P's" had made the game what it is today.

"The Players, the Public and the Press," was the way Ebbets awarded the honors.

The players have reached a dizzy height. When the sun shines again and the call comes old Mr. Public probably will be found in his accustomed place roaring, rooting and roaring as of yore, but in the new order of things organized baseball will not be taking any chances. The lavish expenditure of money in raising salaries was caused by the realization that the public would follow the star players and not the star magnates. The desire is for good baseball and not to sit by while club owners and the swivel chair element play politics and wash dirty linen.

President Tener is going to run the National League. That idea may be riveted in your fender. Starting with the elimination of Murphy, the Governor began backing the league goat into a corner. When he said he would do all the talking for the league he meant it, and if you will go to some quiet spot where the echoes grow you will find it entirely devoid of remarks made by club owners since Tener took office. This means the banishment of politics and its immediate consequence—arousal of disgust on the part of Mr. Public.

The changed policies within the league are in force right now, but the possibilities of further upheavals may aid in filling up padded cells if considered at too great length. Baseball salaries won't be boosted forever. Some day when some centerfielder or shortstop gets to drawing as much as the President of the United States, Mr. Public may voice a word or two. There is nothing to conceal the fact that baseball is a business, one of the biggest in the country, if not the biggest. The Federal League, acting as champion of the player, came across and hiked the ante skyward this winter. Now if someone starts a Federal League for the fans there will be something stirring. Old ball players here for the recent home-coming of the Giants and White Sox were waiting loudly over the fate which put them in their prime before the golden age. Present-day players would not accept the salaries of Amos Rusie, Anson and others of the old crew as expense money. But as those words, phrases, clauses and sentences have sought to intimate, there must be a limit.

Just how brakes are going to be put on, we wouldn't attempt to say, but it's a cinch that when baseball salaries get out of all proportion to other professions or vocations the pendulum will begin to swing back. All leagues with the exception of the American, National and Federal now have a salary limit, and there is also the possibility of the well-known public kicking through with the suggestion that if such remuneration for ball players is possible under the existing scale of admission to ball parks, why not lob off a quarter and change to "quarter baseball?"

ISABELLE ANDERSON AND ARGIS BURNS TO PLAY AT NORDHOFF

Misses Isabelle Anderson and Argis Burns are the winners in the try-outs which have been held to select players to represent the Polytechnic school at the Interscholastic Tennis Tournament to be held April 23, 24 and 25, at Nordhoff, in the Ojai Valley of Ventura county. Players from the entire state will compete though the schools from the territory south of Santa Barbara will have the most representatives.

Boys' Try-Outs Start Monday
Miss Taney, poly's tennis coach, announces that the boys' try-outs for the meet at Nordhoff will be played on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of the coming week on the polytechnic courts. Four boys are to represent the high school at the northern tournament.

BASKET BALL TEAM
AGAIN IN ACTION

Orange News: After a vacation of three weeks, the Orange Athletic Club basketball team will start this week on the last leg of what has been a remarkable schedule. On Friday evening the local five will take on the Company G quintet from Pomona on the home floor. The following Friday Riverside Y. M. C. A. will be here for a game, and on April 1 the season will be closed with a game against Stanford University.

After getting started over a month later than usual, the Orange team is now completing a schedule of twenty games, going far over the former record of fourteen games. The team was playing two games a week during the latter part of the season, and set up a record or eight games in four weeks. This, however, cost them a chance at

of the Chalmers Six is due to its wonderful motor

Ever since the days of "one lungers," motorists have clamored for more cylinders, to eliminate the unpleasant feeling of being jerked along. But this feeling could not be entirely eliminated until the advent of the perfect six-cylinder motor—in which power impulses not only meet, but actually overlap.

Such a motor is the Chalmers Master Motor. It yields an absolutely continuous power stream. The easy, gliding, yacht-like motion this imparts to the car resists all verbal explanation. Not until you have enjoyed a ride in the Chalmers "Six" can you begin to appreciate its indescribable charm.

Let us give you the Chalmers Road test, the "ride of rides" that settles the six-cylinder question once and for all. Whether you buy or not, you are thoroughly welcome. If you don't buy, you will tell others.

PAIGE

HERE IS A BIG, ROOMY, POWERFUL CAR THAT CAN BE DRIVEN EASILY BY A WOMAN

Refinement in motor car construction has at last eliminated the crudities of the gas car and brought it within the realm of woman's strength.

The simplified control, the direct connected, easily shifted gears, the dependable multiple disc cork insert clutch, and the thoroughly reliable electric lighting and starting system combine to make the Paige as easy to drive as a pony cart.

The Paige is distinctly a car of super-quality.

It offers you not only the refinements that characterize cars of highest class—but structural excellence that you are accustomed to find only in cars costing $2000 or more—and the reason for it all you will find in this simple statement—

"When you buy the Paige you pay only for the car itself."

The Paige Company has no bond issue on which it has to pay interest—no excessive capitalization on which it has to earn dividends—no heavy overhead expenses of any kind that have to be added to the cost of the car—

The Paige buyer pays only for actual car value.

Otherwise it would be utterly impossible to offer you this big, roomy splendidly built and thoroughly equipped car for anything like the price at which we have listed it.

We have a folder fully describing Paige points of super-quality that we will be glad to send you on request.

In the meantime get acquainted with the Paige dealer in your community—study the car for yourself—judge it on its merits.

SANDHILL CRANES GAVE CORNELIUS UNPLEASANT NIGHT

Beach Hunter Says Would-Be Law-Breakers Fear Uncle Sam

Monday night was a fretful night for Walter A. Cornelius, editor of the Newport News, a sure shot and an angler of experience. No less than 5,000 sandhill cranes saw fit to fly down on an island in the bay, and their loud cries kept the windy night hideous.

closed season for sandhill cranes, and he would wake up with a start.

These birds generally pass the night on the higher lands of the mesa, but the wind drove them to the bay.

The beach nimbler says that hunters are mighty careful about hunting ducks, geese and other wild birds protected by federal statute.

"Some of those fellows who were willing to take a chance on hunting out of season when the state had control of the migratory birds," said Cornelius, "will not monkey with Uncle Sam. A few days after the season closed a big flock of Canadian geese lighted on the bay and were there from 4 o'clock in the morning until 9 o'clock at night without molestation. It was an awful temptation to some people. Since the season closed, the ducks and geese are far tamer than they were. They seem to realize that danger is over with. Up around the San Joaquin Gun Club at the upper bay there are hundreds of geese."

MOVEMENT AFOOT TO ORGANIZE ATHLETICS OF CALIFORNIA HIGHS

Coach Ratcliffe Goes to Los Angeles to Talk at Southern California Athletic Council

Coach Ratcliffe of the high school will go to Los Angeles tomorrow to take part in the discussion before the Southern California Athletic Council of the movement for a statewide high school athletic organization.

On March 28, eight or ten men from San Francisco and the northern part of the state will meet in Los Angeles at the invitation of the Southern California Athletic Council to form the state association.

The meeting tomorrow is preliminary to the big meeting of March 28. There are a lot of problems to come up in forming the state organization. The Southern California Council will meet and thresh these out, hoping to come to an understanding among themselves so they may be united on the essentials of the association. Among the many questions that will come up are (1) eligibility, (2) division of the state into districts, (3) organization of each district, (4) constitution for state organization, (5) protests, appeals, etc.

The object of the state organization is to give uniformity to state high school athletics. Southern California is already highly organized into various leagues, with the Southern California Athletic Council as the central body, but when it comes to contests between teams of the north and south parts of the state, the question of eligibility and a lot of other things bob up to wreck championship meets and games. It is the hope of those backing the movement that the state-wide organization may be perfected on the 28th, at Los Angeles. Southern California may take pride in this movement as it originated in the South and has its strongest backing here.

AMUSEMENTS

Edison's Talking Motion Pictures, at the Grand

At the Grand Opera House there was displayed last night Edison's latest, and which is hailed as his greatest effort, the talking motion pictures. These pictures are given with a touch of realism by the Edison process of synchronism as to make the spectator feel that he is witnessing a number of plays given by simon pure actors in flesh and blood. This exhibition has been firmly established as a mild form of amusement, not a few persons who attend are amateur photographers eager to see what is probably the greatest advance of their science, the reproduction of motion and talking by the same machine. There is little question that talking motion pictures will play an important part in the future of the drama.

It is another of the marvels emanating from the brain of that wizard of sound and sight, Thomas A. Edison. He makes the motion picture talk, each one with its own voice and tone, which apparently is produced from the actor's mouth as the words are spoken.

It is a wonderful illusion. Let us suppose that it has been possible to reproduce the court scenes during the reign of Napoleon. Who would not go far to see and hear a talking picture where the voice and personality of one of the mightiest figures that ever stormed across the world could be reproduced true to life.

Mr. Edison's latest and probably one of his greatest achievements is receiving a notable reception here, and rightly so as everyone should see this most wonderful invention. Twelve playlets are shown, amongst which is seen a complete minstrel performance in two parts, comedy dramas, musical comedies, and other plays too numerous to mention.

"Judith of Bethulia"
This four-reel motion picture production, telling the tragic story of Judith and Holofernes, was shown at Clune's Santa Ana Theater last evening, and is scheduled to be on the screen again this evening. This picture is a biograph in four reels and has been proclaimed one of the most spectacular and realistic portrayals of historical drama yet produced.

It is really a wonderful film. The scenes are magnificent, almost beyond description. The assault on the walls of Bethulia by the Assyrians is wonderfully portrayed, so much so that one does not realize that it is mere acting.

In the staging of this production upward of 500 people were employed, and 300 horsemen. The chariots, helmets and other war paraphernalia had to be especially designed and constructed.

Everyone in Santa Ana who has the opportunity of witnessing this wonderful film, cannot afford to miss it, as it is an inspiration, which any amount of reading could not produce. A short synopsis of the story follows:

According to the apocryphal story, the Children of Israel had fortified the hill passages by which any invading army from Assyria would be obliged to enter into Judea. The principal of these fortified places was Bethulia.

Nebuchodonosor sent Holofernes, chief captain of his army, with one hundred and twenty thousand men, to visit vengeance on all the earth. When he came to Judea, he met an unexpected defense by the Jews of Bethulia. He stormed the walls but was unable to capture the city. He then sat down to starve it into submission, having taken possession of all the springs and wells from which the city had its supply of water. The result was that the inhabitants began dying of thirst and famine and begged the elders to surrender to the enemy.

At this juncture, Judith, a devout widow of great beauty, had a vision from the Lord and was moved to offer herself as a deliverer of her people. She dressed herself in her finest raiment, with many jewels and ornaments, and went, accompanied by her maid, to the camp of the Assyrians, where her beauty and address obtained for her an immediate interview with Holofernes.

This stern captain was enraptured with the Jewish beauty, and lent willing ear to her promise that she would deliver all Judea into his hands. With artful cunning she played upon his weakness until he invited her to an elaborate entertainment in his quarters. Here she succeeded in inducing him to dismiss all his servants, and when he was overcome with wine, she took down his sword and cut off his head. She escaped back to Bethulia with her maid and the head of the dead general, arriving inside the walls just as the inhabitants were giving up all hope and were crying aloud for the city to be surrendered.

The men of Bethulia were inspired by her seemingly miraculous act to great enthusiasm and courage, and they fell upon the Assyrians who were in a panic from the loss of their leader. The result was a complete defeat of the invading army. Great rejoicing followed in Bethulia, and Judith was raised to the highest esteem of the people.

At the Lyric
Those who failed to attend the Lyric Theater last night to witness the production of "The Governor's Veto" certainly missed a rare treat, as this photo play was above the ordinary.

For this afternoon and tonight the management announces a splendid bill in which four distinct and separate plays will be shown, all of which are above the ordinary as high class photo plays. "The Race With Death," an exciting automobile event in which the mechanic wins the race and at the same time his child reaches the hospital in time for an operation which saves its life. The other three are "Heart of Smiling Joe," drama; "Jones' Burglar Trap," comedy, and "The Old Knife Grinder," drama.

THE CULPABLE BABBLINGS OF DIOGENES DING-BUSTIT

Though the bland proceeding is almost certain to turn me into a pariah, an outcast, an Ishmaelite, I am about to blow a blast for the awakening of the carnival spirit in this city and county. For this mild effort to arouse the slumbering local populace I fully expect surreptitious introductions of carbolic acid into my coffee by a heterogeneous posse of benighted gnomes. I have no doubt but that, upon a fateful midnight, while I am quietly pursuing my righteous way to my parental domicile, villains will beset me and proceed to cudgel and belabor my poor cranium into a compact and ghastly pulp. I am certain that conspirators will monkey with the mechanisms of elevators in which I am about to embark, that laundries will dust certain intimate articles of my raiment with ground glass and that barbers' razors will slip while in the vicinage of my esophagus. 'Tis a sad prospect, alas, but if I am not brazen and not reckless I am nothing.

BREATHE FREELY! OPEN NOSTRILS AND STUFFED HEAD--END CATARRH

Instant Relief When Nose and Head Are Clogged from a Cold. Stops Nasty Catarrhal Discharges. Dull Headache Vanishes.

Try "Ely's Cream Balm."
Get a small bottle anyway, just to try it. Apply a little in the nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages of the head will open; you will breathe freely; dullness and headache disappear. By morning the catarrh, cold-in-head or catarrhal sore throat will be gone. End such misery now! Get the small bottle of "Ely's Cream Balm" at any drug store. This sweet, fragrant balm dissolves by the heat of the nostrils; penetrates and heals the inflamed, swollen membrane which lines the nose, head and throat; clears the air passages; stops nasty discharges and a feeling of cleansing, soothing relief comes immediately. Don't lay awake tonight struggling for breath, with head stuffed; nostrils closed, hawking and blowing. Catarrh or a cold, with its running nose, foul mucous dropping into the throat, and raw dryness is distressing but truly needless. Put your faith—just once—in "Ely's Cream Balm" and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear. Advertisment.

SANTA ANA ATHLETIC CLUB PLUNGE.
Cor. Third and Spurgeon Sts.

So here goes.

The first result of the asinine onslaught upon the keys of my writing-machine is this: "Santa Ana should have at least one big carnival each year." (Loud yells from the enraged mob of, "Out upon him! A murrain upon him! Carnivals don't pay! They don't do any good!") But, softly, good sirs, at least give me an ear until I have done.

My impressions of a town which does not give itself a chance to turn loose, at least annually, on a mad, glad fete day are of Ethel Barrymore dancing the tango with an undertaker in the middle of the Mojave desert; of a race between September Morn, riding a velocipede, and Barney Oldfield, driving a Brush; of Theodore Roosevelt gathering violets atop the Register building with James J. Jeffries playing the "Peer Gyn" suite on a jew-harp; of John D. Rockefeller singing "The Rosary" to a snare drum obligato rendered by Valeska Suratt.

It's a sorrowful thing, of course, but the wild and youthful spirit of the joy of living, which is so essential to carnivals, is already rampant among certain of the peoples of this locality. Take the high school youngsters, for instance. Personally, though I'm hanged for it, I shall go on record as saying that the Polytechnic boys and girls deserve credit for not allowing themselves to be suppressed. Did you go out to the county track meet, last Saturday? The bleachers were laden with rosters from the various county high schools. There was a gladsome atmosphere, out there, that day, a sprightly palpitation of the ozone, caused, in the main, by profuse and buoyant pulmonary gymnastics. Vague, intoxicating mists, raised by the unguerdoned fragrance of class yells dangled round about the athletic field. Under the capable exhortation of yell leaders the vocal artillery of the schools' rosters gave itself over to incessant and successful efforts at drum-rending utterances. Do you suppose this painstaking din had to be enticed from out the systems of those youngsters. Far be it from such. They were tickled just to be living, were those young rascals, and they let the world know it, caring not a whit whether they stepped upon the proper corners of any of the living mummies of the land or not. They were out there on the field to enjoy themselves and they proceeded to do so. They had the accurate idea.

Now, what I want to know is this, what is there so felonious about noise, pure and simple? What is there so atrocious about kicking up a clatter that stuporous gangs of the inflamed rabble must needs rise up in arms to quell every incipient rejoicing that may happen to bob up? Were it not better if the Mrs. Grundies of the world would crack the camel of their stern visages now and then by displaying their dental equipment in extensive smiles of encouragement? Why frown upon each and every person who may make so bold as to give audible and unrestrained expression to his or her joy of life? If people have their own fond ideas of prolonging their youth, why not let them go to it? Don't we all grow old soon enough anyway?

Come we now to the main point at issue—carnivals. To the objection that "they don't pay," I cannot see my way clear to give voice to expressions other than "Rot! Piffle! Pishmish!" What if carnivals don't pay? (The fact is that if they were run in a business-like way and with a little more of the feeling of "do unto others as you would have others do unto you," the returns from the carnivals would be greatly apt to show a favorable balance on the credit side of the ledger.) Once again I reiterate, what if they don't pay? Is the success of a community to be measured entirely by the clubbiness of the purses of its various citizens? Is the custody of portly piles of pelf the ultimate and extreme honor that may befall a freeholder? Let the merchants and others open their pump wallets, say I.

Carnivals don't do any good? Show me a town that has lately held a jubilation of some kind and I will show you a town whose people are in extremely close touch with the merchants, a town where the patrons of the various stores, knowing that the shopkeepers are willing once in a while to do things other than extract lucre from the people in exchange for goods of varying degrees of quality, are more than ever willing to do more trading. There is a better spirit in a town that has an occasional carnival. I defy you to deny this.

So let's slacken up a bit. Let's have a good old-fashioned slindy of some kind. Let's let 'em know we're alive. They do it in Europe, I'm told, and I've yet to learn of a city across the pond that threatens to go to pieces as a result. The eastern cities have blow-outs. Why can't we? I saw a moving picture the other day of the annual New Year's celebration in Philadelphia. Ten thousand men and women, all in costume, took part in a joyful, fantastic parade. Think of it, ten thousand! And you mean to tell me it didn't pay the Quaker City, that it didn't do any good? Guess again.

LOCAL ROD AND REEL CLUB MEN TO ENTER HERMOSA TOURNEY

Preparatory Casting Tournament Held at Beach Sunday
Drew Big Crowd

A preparatory casting tournament was held at Hermosa Beach Sunday by the members of the Hermosa Rod and Reel Company. They are preparing for the event which is to take place in May upon the celebration of the completion of the new municipal pier.

The contestants were: C. E. Platt, with a cast of 159 feet, 8 inches; Frank L. Mahoney, with 152 feet 8 inches; E. O. Butzin, 118 feet 11 inches; John McCready, 116 feet 3 inches; Ralph Bartlett, 101 feet 11 inches. A large crowd witnessed the tournament. Great preparations are being made for the May celebration, and the Southern California Rod and Reel Club, the San Diego, Long Beach and Orange County Rod and Reel Clubs have signified their intention to be present. Three medals will be awarded at the tournament as follows: First prize, gold; second prize, silver; third prize, bronze. There will be three classes in the casting exhibit: A, 175 feet and over; B, from 135 feet to 175 feet; C, under 135 feet. The first class will include a single-handed cast; second class, both single and double, and the third class, the line may be cast in any way chosen by the participant. The first and second class will use the regulation line with three-ounce weight, while the third class will be open to any weight. This gathering of the anglers promises to be the largest ever held on the Coast and will be participated in by a number of top-notchers.

Among others of the Orange County Rod and Reel Club who are getting out their kits in anticipation of the Hermosa tournament are Howard Turner, M. A. Patton, Earl Glenn and Tom Hill.

HUNTINGTON LOST TO INTERMEDIATES

The Santa Ana intermediate school is making a name for itself in athletics. The basketball, baseball and track teams went over to Huntington Beach last Saturday and won all the events except the high jump and pole vault.

The boys of the baseball team defeated the beach nine with a high score. In the basketball game the girls of the intermediate made an excellent score, besting Huntington Beach.

The track team of the Santa Ana school made a fine showing.

1915 REO HAS ARRIVED: SHOWS MANY CHANGES

The first of the local automobile dealers to announce the arrival of their 1915 cars is Wisdom & Company, who received their first new Reo model this week. This newest product of the Reo factory shows a number of improvements over last year's Reo the Fifth, the most noticeable of which is its new stream line style of body. It is without doubt a very graceful type of body, running in an unbroken sweep from the hood to the gondola back. The manufacturers predict in their literature that this type of body is destined to become the popular body of the future.
